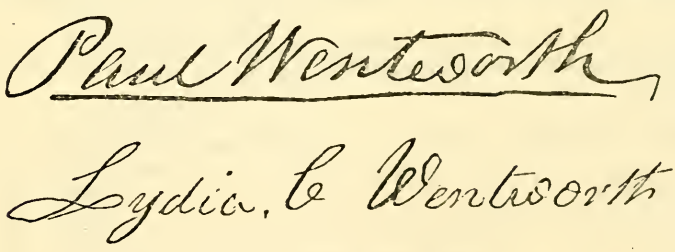
Harbor. In 1811, he was ordered to take his company to the western frontier, where Gen. Harrison was then in personal command. Although at that time contemplating a resignation, with the view of engaging in mercantile business, he postponed it until he should have conducted his force to Fort Harrison, and at once notified the Department of his purpose, and received a notice that his resignation would be thus accepted. Accordingly, he resigned immediately after reaching his destination, 29 October, 1811, and returned to New Hampshire, there being at that time, at Fort Harrison, no symptoms of any immediate conflict with the Indians. The battle of Tippecanoe did not take place until the 7th of November following his resignation, and after Gen. Harrison had marched into the enemy's country, some distance from Fort Harrison. While at Vincennes, Indiana, he joined, 23 September, 1811, a Masonic Lodge called "Vincennes Lodge," and was conducted into it by the gallant Col. Joe Daviess, of Kentucky, who fell at the battle of Tippecanoe, and for whom Joe Daviess County, Ill., is named. After his return to Dover, he learned (through its mortgage to Dr. Ezra Green, of Dover) that the farm of Col. Jacob Smith,* of Sandwich, N. H., was for sale. In June, 1812, he visited Sandwich, and purchased it. He was married by Rev. Joseph W. Clary,† at Dover, 30 March, 1814, to Lydia[7], daughter



* Col. Jacob Smith moved to Sandwich, N. H., about 1778, from Exeter, N. H., and cleared the farm on which the author of this work was born. He died, aged about 84 years, leaving son Eliphalet Smith, who died on an adjoining farm, and left a numerous posterity.

† Joseph Ward Clary, fourteenth minister of the first parish in Dover, was born in Rowe, Mass., 21 November, 1786. He graduated at Middlebury College, in 1808, and at Andover Theological Seminary in 1811; was ordained at Dover, 7 May, 1812. He was dismissed (on his resignation) 6 August, 1828, and in the following autumn was installed in Cornish, N. H. He resigned that charge in 1834, and died there, 13 April, 1835. Timothy Farrar Clary, of Wareham, Mass., graduated at Dartmouth College, 1841, and Dr. George Clary, of Hartford, Conn., graduated at Dartmouth College, 1852, are his sons, by the first and second wife respectively.

‡ Cogswell.—Col. Amos Cogswell was a descendant of John[1] Cogswell, the emigrant. Mrs. Cogswell was widow of Capt. Samuel Wallingford (see note to Mary[4] (163) Wentworth), and daughter of Col. Otis and Tamsen[5] (567) (Chesley) Baker.

John[1] Cogswell, a merchant of London, England, embarked from Bristol, 4 June, 1635, and lastly from Milford Haven, Wales, in the "Angel Gabriel," which reached Pemaquid, but was driven from her anchorage there by the "Great Hurricane" of 15 August, 1635, and totally wrecked. He brought with him his sons, William,[2] aged 14; John,[2] aged 12; and Edward,[2] aged 6; the ages being given in 1635. It is not known where or when his daughters, Mary,[2] Hannah,[2] Abigail,[2] and Sarah,[2] were born. John[1] Cogswell was admitted freeman 3 March, 1636, and died 29 November, 1669. His inventory was taken in 1670. He had wife Elizabeth, who died 2 June, 1676. Their children:

I. William,[2] born about 1619; see below.

II. John,[2] of Ipswich, bound for England in 1653, (in which year he died at sea), made will, and besides his brother William[2] and two others whose names are torn off the paper (in Salem, Mass., examined in August, 1859,), mentions:

1. Samuel,[3] (was he the Samuel whom Savage says was of Saybrook, and married, 22 October, 1668, Susan Hearn, and had eight children?) and:
2. Elizabeth.[3]

III. Edward,[2] born about 1629, who was probably of Ipswich, and died about 1700.

IV. Mary.[2]

V. Hannah.[2]

VI. Abigail.[2]

VII. Sarah,[2] born about 1647; married Simon Tuttle.

William,[2] son of John,[1] as above, born about 1619; was of Ipswich in 1646; had wife Elizabeth; and died there about 1701, willing property to sons William,[3] John,[3] Jonathan,[3] Adam,[3] daughter Hester,[3] and her three sisters. (Savage gives this list to Edward,[2] but he mentions Jonathan,[3] and John,[3] as children of William[2]; and records in Salem give William,[3] son of William,[2] born 4 December, 1659.)

William[2] certainly had (doubtless with others):

I. John,[3] born about 1650, in Ipswich; see below.

II. Jonathan,[3] married, 14 May, 1686, Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Wainwright.

III. William,[3] born (by Salem records) 4 December, 1659. (Was he the

IV. Edmund,[3] died (by Salem records) 14 May, 1680.

John,[3] son of William,[2] as above, had wife Hannah, and eleven children[4]; he died in Ipswich, in 1710. (A John married, as by Salem records, 22 July, 1674, Mrs. Margaret Gifford.) Of the eleven children was:

Nathaniel,[4] born in Haverhill, Mass., 19 January, 1707, and was afterwards a merchant there. He removed thence to Atkinson, N. H., where he died, 23 March, 1783, aged 76. His wife was Judith, daughter of Joseph Badger, of Newbury, Mass.; she was born 3 February, 1724. (For "Badger," see below in this note.) Their children are given in the Family Record of Col. Amos[5] Cogswell, now in possession of the mother of the author of this work, at Concord, N. H., who is his daughter. The record is as follows, the additions in brackets being by the author of this work, as well as the figures prefixed, and the number denoting the generation:

Eight of these sons of Nathaniel[4] and Judith (Badger) Cogswell were in the war of the Revolution, and they performed in the aggregate over thirty-eight years of service. Amos Cogswell was brevetted Major at Princeton, 10 October, 1783. Gov. John Langdon, of N. H., made him Colonel of 1st Regiment of Light Horse, 4 November, 1785.

From a petition of Col. Amos Cogswell to the Secretary of War for his pension, dated 8 July, 1820, which is still extant in his own hand writing, we take the following extract:

"About the 10 May, 1775, I entered the service of my country as a second Lieutenant in Col. Gerrish's regiment, in the Massachusetts line, and was in a small action with the enemy at Sewell's Point with their floating batteries. In 1776, I served as second Lieutenant in Col. Baldwin's regiment, in New York: was in a small action with the enemy when they landed at Throg's neck, and also at White Plains. At Trenton, I waded across the river, and took two Hessian prisoners under the Bridge; in doing which, I got a bad cold, and have had the rheumatism more or less ever since. In 1777, January 1st, I was appointed a Captain in the 9th Massachusetts Regiment, commanded by Col. James Wasson; was up the Mohawk River; took Ensign Butler, with fourteen Canada Rangers, and three Indians, prisoners; was at the raising of the siege of Fort Schuyler; marched from Albany to Ballston with one hundred men, and took forty refugees prisoners, that were going to Canada; was at the taking of Burgoyne; marched into their encampment with one hundred men, when their troops marched out, and collected together all their arms, and made my report to the Adjutant General that night. From there I joined General Washington, at Whitemarsh; was in the battle of Monmouth; was in a small action near King's Bridge, when the French troops joined the American army.

"I continued in service until the last day of December, 1783, when I left with a commission of Brevet Major.

"I retired from service, and settled at Dover, N. H.

"I married a young widow, whose husband was a Captain of Marines [Samuel Wallingford], in the ship "Ranger," with Capt. Paul Jones, Commander, when he took the British ship of war, "Drake," and then lost his life. According to the several acts of Congress, she was entitled to about $1,000 for the prisoners and guns so taken, but she could never obtain anything. She is now in years, very infirm, of the same complaint as my own. She thinks she ought to draw a stipend from Government for one or the other of her husbands.

"I have always been a true friend to my country, both in the field and cabinet. I have served about ten years as a member in our General Court, three years in the Honorable Senate, and have had the honor of being one of the electors [in 1816] for our present President and Vice-President. I do say, not to my knowledge, did I ever miss a regular tour of duty the whole time I was in service, but performed hundreds for my brother officers that were absent in visiting their friends."

Col. Cogswell was in the House of Representatives, from Dover, N. H., in 1807, 1808, 1809, 1810, and at other times. Again in 1812, 1814, and 1815. He was in the Senate in 1818, 1819, and 1820. He was one of the Presidential electors in 1816.

Lydia[6] (1648), daughter of Col. Otis and Tamsen[5] (Chesley) Baker, born at Dover, N. H., 12 May, 1759; was married, 16 June, 1775, to Capt. Samuel Wallingford; he was killed on board the ship "Ranger," 24 April, 1778, leaving one son, George Washington[7] Wallingford, born 19 February, 1776, and died at Kennebunk, Me., 20 January, 1824, leaving six children[8]; his family is given under Mary[4] (163) Wentworth, daughter of Benjamin,[5] and granddaughter of Ezekiel.[3]

Widow Wallingford was married to Amos Cogswell, at Dover, N. H., on Sunday evening, 20 November, 1785, by the Rev. Jeremy Belknap, the historian of New Hampshire, who was ordained over the first church at Dover, 18 February, 1767. See "BELKNAP," at the end of this note.

H., and live with her daughter (the author's mother) Mrs. Paul (154) Wentworth. She died a few days after her arrival, 14 February, 1828. The writer of this was present at her death and funeral. Her remains have recently been taken to Dover, N. H., and deposited by the side of those of her husband. The author of this work recently caused new tombstones to be erected at the graves of both.

John,[3] son of Sergeant John,[2] as above, born 26 April, 1665; married, 5 October, 1691, Rebecca (born 15 March, 1667), daughter of Isaac and Rebecca (Bailey) Brown. (This Isaac Brown married Rebecca Bailey, 22 August, 1661, and died 13 May, 1764. He was son of Thomas Brown, weaver, who came to Newbury, Mass., 1635, from Malford, England, and died by a fall, 8 January, 1687, aged 80 years; his wife, Mary, died 2 June, 1655. That farm Paul[6] soon sold to the late Benjamin Way; and, in 1862, it was in possession of Mr. Way's son-in-law, John Beede, then Representative from Sandwich. Paul[6] then removed to a farm called "the Quimby place," about a mile south on the way to his final location, where the third child Joseph[7] (3591) was born. About 1820, he removed to what is called "the Purington place," at "Little's Corner," about a hundred rods south of the final family

Of the children of John[3] was:

Joseph,[4] born in Newbury, Mass., in 1698; moved to Haverhill, Mass.; married, 1st, Hannah, daughter of Col. Nathaniel and Judith (Kimball) Peaslee; she was born 1 May, 1703, and died 15 January, 1734. He died 7 April, 1760, having married a second time. See N. E. Hist. and Gen. Register, 1852. (Col. Nathaniel Peaslee, born 25 June, 1682, and married Judith Kimball, was son of Dr. Joseph Peaslee, of Haverhill, Mass., who was born 9 September, 1646, and died 5 November, 1723, and whose wife was Ruth Barnard: and was grandson of Joseph Peaslee, the emigrant settler. Joseph, the emigrant, was made freeman in 1642; settled in Newbury, Mass.; went to Haverhill, Mass., before 1646; thence to that part of Salisbury, now Amesbury, Mass., where he died 3 December, 1660, and had wife, Mary ———.) Joseph[4] Badger was the father of:

Judith,[5] born 3 February, 1724, who married Nathaniel[4] Cogswell, as above, under "Cogswell."

Of this family was Hon. William[7] Badger, of Gilmanton, N. H., Governor of New Hampshire in 1834 and 1835. He was son of Joseph[6] and Elizabeth (Pearson) Badger, and grandson of Joseph,[5] who was brother of Judith,[5] wife of the above Nathaniel Cogswell, of Atkinson, N. H. Gov. Badger left two sons: Joseph[8] (graduated at Dartmouth College, 1839), lives upon the homestead; and William[8] (graduated at Dartmouth College, 1848), was in the war of the Rebellion, and is now Colonel in the Regular Army.

Belknap. — Jeremy Belknap, D. D., eleventh minister of the First Parish in Dover, N. H. (ninth of the church), was born in Boston, Mass., 4 June, 1744; eldest son of Joseph and Sarah (Byles) Belknap; graduated at Harvard College, 1762; was ordained, 18 February, 1767, colleague pastor (with Rev. Jonathan Cushing) at Dover. By the death of Mr. Cushing, 25 March, 1769, he became sole pastor. The residence of Dr. Belknap was on Silver Street, next door to the Dr. Ezra Green's house. His pastorate ceased (by his resignation) 11 September, 1786. He was installed over the Federal Street church, Boston, Mass. (afterwards Dr. Channing's), 4 April, 1787. He received the degree of D. D. from Harvard College, 1792. He died, of apoplexy, 20 June, 1798. Dr. Belknap's wife was Ruth, daughter of Samuel Eliot, of Boston, whom he married, 15 June, 1767. His biography, by his granddaughter, has been published in Boston, Mass.

Dr. Belknap was a historical writer of taste, accuracy, and judgment. His chief work was the History of New Hampshire. He was founder and Corresponding Secretary of the Massachusetts Historical Society, whose library now contains an invaluable collection of his manuscripts. The earliest existent records of the first church in Dover exist only as compiled or copied by Dr. Belknap.

location, where his son George W.[7] (3592) was born. In about a year thereafter, he bought, of a Mr. Dearborn, what has since been known as the "Wentworth place," and which commands a view of the entire town. On this place his son Joseph[7] now resides. Here all the other children were born. Besides managing this large farm, and several others in different parts of the town, he was a merchant in extensive business. He was post-master many years; in fact, always when his political party was in power. He was Moderator of the Town meetings, one of the Selectmen over twenty years, and a Justice of the Peace still longer. He was Representative in the Legislature, in 1831, 1832, 1833, 1834, and in 1839, 1840, and 1841. For several years he was chosen at the same election Moderator, Selectman, and Representative; and in 1841, the last time he was a candidate, he received for these three offices respectively, the highest vote ever cast for any person in the town. There being a desire on the part of the young men to bring forward his son Joseph[7] for office, he never afterwards became a candidate. In the winter of 1844–5, he left Sandwich,* and bought what is known as the "old Kent place," on Pleasant Street, Concord, N. H.

Before there was a Congregational church in Sandwich, N. H., Paul[6] and wife joined the one in Tamworth, of which Rev. Samuel Hidden† was pastor. The author of this work and the next four children were christened by him. Upon the establishment of a Congregational church in Sandwich, Paul[6] and his wife united therewith, and the remainder of the children were christened by the pastor thereof; except the last, Samuel Hidden[7] Wentworth; to christen whom, Rev. Samuel Hidden came from Tamworth to Sandwich, N. H., and gave his own name.

* Sandwich was formerly in Strafford County; but, by the division of that county, 22 December, 1840, became a part of Carroll County, and is in that part of New Hampshire often styled the Switzerland of America. The town is among those highlands which separate those beautiful and picturesque bodies of water, dotted with hundreds of islands, — the Winnipiseogee and Squam Lakes. As the traveller from the capital of the State reaches the first of that extensive range, which he never loses sight of until he arrives at Mount Washington itself, known as the Red Mountain, he beholds a promontory of comparatively low lands, nearly equally divided between hills, vales, and little lakes, jutting up among precipitous and rugged mountains, through which there seems no outlet except in the entrance. At the extreme end of this peninsular strip of land, bounded almost entirely by mountains, with no house, nor road, nor any place beyond save the craggy mountains, less than a quarter of a mile to the right of the road that now leads through a hardly passable gorge to the town of Thornton, and in sight of almost perpetual snows, was the author of this work born. The soil is sterile and rocky; and its original settlers, in 1768, declare that they found it a dense mass of rocks and trees, with no bare spot save its lakes and rivers.

Early in 1855, the health of Paul[6] began to fail by general debility, and early in August he and his wife went to their old homestead in Sandwich, N. H., in the hope that a cooler air might prolong his life, which, it was apparent to all was fast drawing to a close. But, without any pain, and without the least effect upon his mental energies, limb after limb lost its power, and he was confined to his bed in a helpless condition. At last he could eat nothing, and was kept alive by stimulants given from a spoon. As long as he could speak, he enjoyed conversation, and took an interest in all the news of the day. A man six feet and two inches in height and well-proportioned, and a man of untiring industry, he had scarcely ever been sick, and had never before been confined to his bed a day. His death was from a general giving out of the whole machinery of his body, and particularly the internal, as it was impossible for him, in the last days of his life, to retain any nourishment upon his stomach. He was so near dead on the morning of Thursday, 30 August, that the metallic coffin ordered from Concord had on it the 30th as the day of his death; but he did not cease to breathe until ten o'clock, on Friday, 31 August, 1855. A notice of his death, prematurely published in a Concord, N. H., paper, was read to him not long before he died. There were present, his wife, his sons John,[7] Joseph[7] and his wife, and Samuel H.[7]; his son-in-law, Rev. Samuel Lee, and his daughter, Margaret,[7] with her husband, David L. Morrill. He manifested no desire to live, or fear to die. He breathed his life sweetly away, without the least bodily pain, or the least doubt of his happiness hereafter.

The remains were taken to Concord on Saturday, September 1st, and buried that afternoon, by the side of his deceased sons, George W.[7] and William B.[7] ary army, and was in the battle of Stillwater. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1791. He was ordained, on a rock still pointed out, over the Congregational church in Tamworth, N. H., 12 September, 1792, and remained until his death in that place, 13 February, 1857. He was one of the most respected and popular clergyman of the State. He married, 29 November, 1792, his cousin, Betsey, daughter of William Price, of Gilmanton, N. H.

His widow still resides upon the homestead in Concord, N. H.

The following were the children of Paul[6] and Lydia (Cogswell) Wentworth (of whom, three sons and two daughters were living at the time of his death, and still live):

3589. I. John[7] (the author of this work), born in Sandwich, N. H., 5 March, 1815. [5509]

3590. II. Lydia Cogswell,[7] born 21 July, 1816; married, 14 January, 1846, (by Rev. Otis Holmes, at Concord, N. H.,) Rev. Samuel Lee. Mr. Lee was a Congregational clergyman at New Ipswich, N. H., and was a member of the N. H. Legislature, in 1848, 1849, and 1862. He was born in Berlin, Conn., 18 March, 1803. He had been previously married, by which marriage he had a daughter Sarah Lee, who is now living. Mrs. Lydia C.[7] Lee died 6 March, 1855,* and her infant son was christened at

* The Mother's Magazine, for June of that year, had the following notice:

"The recent decease of Mrs. Lee, wife of Rev. Samuel Lee, of New Ipswich, N. H., has produced a deep sensation in the circles where she was known. Her womanly accomplishments and her excellent Christian character won for her a high esteem. At the annual meeting of the Maternal Association, of which she was a member, holden a few days subsequent to her decease, a report was read, from which we make the following extract:

"Another year has been added to the existence of this Society, and, as it closes, it is fitting that we should remember the way in which our God hath led us. But how shall we proceed? We miss from our circle the dear one to whose voice we had hoped to listen to-day. Our Secretary is not here. The pen has fallen from her hand, and she sleeps in the silent grave. Sadness comes over our spirits, and we mourn that we shall see her face no more,—no more listen to the voice of her supplication when we meet to pray for our children. Seldom does an Association of ladies sustain so great a loss by the death of one of its members as we have sustained by the death of Mrs. Lee; for she was no ordinary woman. Fitted to grace the highest circles of intelligence and refinement, she seemed quite unconscious of her own superior worth, but cherished a spirit meek and lowly, gentle and forgiving.

"Ever the same, social, familiar, kind, and sympathizing in her own peculiarly winning way, she sought the good of all, and none who knew her could withhold from her their affection and respect.

"She was eminently spiritual. She loved the place of prayer, and we all felt that she was no stranger at the mercy seat. But words cannot portray a character like hers; 'her record is on high.' Doubtless the Saviour saw that she was fitted for the mansion which He has prepared for her in Heaven, and so he took her to Himself. Let us, while we live, cherish her memory, and endeavor to profit by her influence.

"'She being dead yet speaketh;' not in accents that mortal ears can hear, but in language which the heart may understand."

her funeral. Mr. Lee subsequently married the widow of Rev. David P. Smith, daughter of Mr. Chandler, of Bedford, N. H., and sister of Hon. Zachariah Chandler, U. S. Senator from Michigan.

Rev. Samuel and Lydia Cogswell[7] (Wentworth) Lee, had children, all born in New Ipswich:

1. Samuel Wentworth[8] Lee, born 12 September, 1847.
2. John Wentworth[8] Lee, born 3 April, 1852; died 17 September, 1852.
3. George William[8] Lee, born 20 June, 1853.
4. Joseph Wentworth[8] Lee, born 20 January, 1855; died 5 September, 1855.

3591. III. Joseph,[7] born 30 January, 1818. [5514]

3592. IV. George Wallingford,[7] born 2 November, 1820; entered Dartmouth College twice, but was obliged, in both instances, to leave by ill health, and to abandon all idea of a collegiate education. Eventually, he so far recovered his health as to enable him to pursue the study of medicine, which he did at Concord, N. H., New York City, and Philadelphia, taking his degree at the latter place in 1847. He commenced practice in Chicago, Ill., immediately. During the ravages of the cholera there in 1849, the alderman of his ward resigned; and such had been his devotion to cholera cases, and such his success in his gratuitous practice among the poor, that he was elected to fill the vacancy, and at the next election was re-elected for the term of two years. In 1850, the cholera again broke out, and, in his efforts to do his duty both as a physician and alderman, he was himself seized with that disease,* and died about five o'clock, P. M., on Wednesday, 14 August, 1850, after about ten hours' sickness. His remains were taken to the family burial-place, in Concord, N. H.

3593. V. Mary Frances,[7] born 19 March, 1822; married, at Sandwich, N. H. (by Rev. Otis Holmes), 19

* He was taken suddenly, while in his bed in his office, just about daybreak. The landlord, (John Murphy,) of the U. S. Hotel, at which he was boarding, called to see him about 7, A. M., himself in perfect health, was at once seized and died before Dr. Wentworth did.

The Chicago Medical Society met and resolved to attend, in a body, his funeral; and declared that in his death they had lost the co-operation of a worthy and industrious member of the profession, and the community the services of a valuable and public-spirited citizen; and that they deemed it due to the deceased that his memory should be gratefully cherished for his unvarying attention to the sick and suffering during the present epidemic to which he himself fell a victim.

The Mayor called a special meeting of the Council, which resolved to attend the funeral in a body; to wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days; and that their resolutions of respect and condolence be placed on record, and sent to his parents.

Mrs. Lydia H.[6] (1792) Sigourney, of Hartford, Conn., (whose mother was a Wentworth, and whose family will be found among the descendants of Paul,[2]) wrote the following lines upon his death:

Science doth mourn for thee,
  Who thus, at opening day,
Didst shroud thy manly head, and pass
  From her fair halls away.

But poverty and pain
  Lament with deeper woe
Their benefactor laid in dust,
  Where turf and wild flowers grow;

Lament his faithful care
  Their gushing tears that dried,
And sought them in those dark abodes
  That few explored beside.

Yet better thus beloved,
  Ere faded prime, to fall,
Affection's pearl-drops on thy brow,
  And o'er thy sable pall,

Than a long, useless life
  'Mid change, and storm, and blast,
In selfish indolence to lead,
  And die unmourned at last.

Morrill, who was formerly Governor of New Hampshire, and U. S. Senator. David L. Morrill (husband of Margaret J.[7]) was a lawyer in Winchendon, West Brookfield, and Worcester, Mass.; he now resides in Burlington, Iowa.

* He was son of Rev. Huntington Porter, of Rye, N. H., from whose tombstone, in Rye, the following was copied by the author:

"Rev. Huntington Porter died in Lynn, Mass., 7th March, 1844, aged 89 years; born in Bridgewater, Mass., 27th March, 1755; graduated at Harvard College, 1777; ordained at Rye, 29th December, 1784."

3596. VIII. William Badger,[7] born 14 January, 1830, and was named for Hon. William Badger, Governor of New Hampshire, whose wife was a Cogswell, and cousin of his mother; (see "Cogswell" note, page 106.) He entered Dartmouth College in 1846, but was obliged to leave in 1847, in consequence of ill health. He died 28 July, 1848, in Concord, N. H., and was buried in the burying-place where the remains of his brother, George,[7] and of his father were afterwards interred.

The editor of the Congregational Journal, who lived the next door to his father, thus spoke of him:

> His moral principles were remarkably firm and pure, and his conduct uniformly consistent and manly, and had he been permitted to live, his talents and acquisitions and industry would have made him conspicuous in society, as well as the joy of his family circle.

3597. IX. Samuel Hidden,[7] born 16 July, 1834; graduated at Harvard College, in 1858, and has since received the degree of A. M. and also that of LL. B., at the Law School, and resides at Rollinsford, N. H., being that formerly occupied by his grandfather Col. John[5] (160) that the author of this work first saw the record of Master Tate,* so often referred to in this work, being the most extensive and reliable record existing of the early families of old Somersworth.

John B.[6] and Statira (Goodwin) Wentworth had children:

* Tate's Record.—Joseph Tate, known as "Master Tate," was a schoolmaster in Somersworth, (that part now Rollinsford,) N. H. It is said that some of his records were lost by the burning of a dwelling-house. The volume extant is probably the first; it is headed, "Name of Families, Children's Names, & Time of Birth, in the Town of Somersworth, Mar. y^e^ 26, 1767." It gives prior dates of births of children in the families then resident there, and continues until 1778. As no blank leaves appear, it is probable that the next volume was a continuation; and, in the space given to his own family, in this volume, dates of births are continued to 1786. The volume contains, also, "Memorandums of Sundry Things, viz., Deaths, Marriages, Disasters, etc." There are interspersed extracts from periodicals, statistics, recipes, notices of current events, etc.; and the book is very curious and valuable.

Master Tate lived by the Salmon Falls River, about fifty rods below the lower mill. Where, or when he was born or died does not appear. He married Elizabeth Saunders. She was probably a widow, as his record says, 21 December, 1774, "My wife's daughter, Elizabeth Tod, broke her leg in going home from my house." They had children:

I. Robert, born 10 August, 1744. He married, in 1767, Margaret Wallingford, of what family does not appear; there were others of the name in and about Dover and Somersworth besides the family of Col. Thomas Wallingford. Master Tate says, 29 May, 1771, "My son Robert moved his family up to Lebanon," (Me.) They had:

1. Charles Millet[8] Nowell, born 12 November, 1851; died 3 August, 1860.
2. Edward Everett[8] Nowell, born 19 August, 1853.
3. Jessie Fremont[8] Nowell, born 8 February, 1856.
4. Mary Blodgett[8] Nowell, born 10 July, 1862.
5. Annie Griffin[8] Nowell, twin with Mary B.[8]
6. Eben Lincoln[8] Nowell, born 6 March, 1865.

3617. II. Elizabeth D.,[7] born 1 November, 1828; died 1847.

1. Charles William[8] Blodgett, born 14 September, 1856.

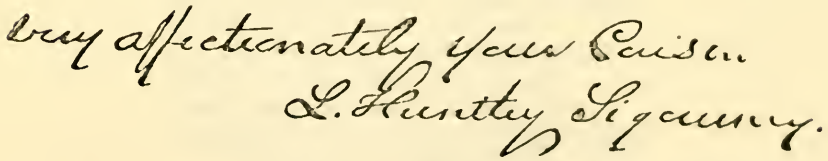
She had been teaching school in Hartford, prior to her marriage. (Mr. Sigourney had several children by his first wife, of whom the last surviving son died two and a half years after himself, aged 45; two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Knox, of Troy, N. Y., and Mrs. Jane C. Burnham, of New York City, yet live.) Mrs. Sigourney died in Hartford, Conn., 11 June, 1865, aged 73 years.

Charles and Lydia Howard[6] (Huntley) Sigourney had:

3903. I. Mary Huntley[7] Sigourney, born in Hartford, Conn., 3 August, 1828; married, 25 October, 1855, Rev. Francis T. Russell, an Episcopal clergyman, of Ridgefield, Conn. She gave a very interesting account of the last hours of her mother's life in Addenda to a work written by her mother, but not published until after her death, entitled "Letters of Life."

3904. II. Andrew Maximilian[7] Sigourney, born in Hartford, Conn., 11 July, 1830; died of consumption, 24 June, 1850. It was on the occasion of his death that his mother wrote "The Faded Hope."

The author of this work is indebted very much to Mrs. Sigourney for much that he has been enabled to gather respecting the descendants of Elder William[1] Wentworth's son Paul,[2] who settled at Norwich, Conn. Nor did she confine her efforts to this one family. Quite twenty years was she a faithful correspondent; and never did she meet with the name of Wentworth that she did not at once communicate to him all the facts that she had been able to collect of its origin.



Not long before her death, which occurred at Hartford, Conn., 11 June, 1865, aged 73 years, she wrote to the author of this work urging him to publish at once what he had already collected, and to trust to a second edition for additional collections.

Her poems, at planting flowers on her mother's grave, and "My Mother's Grave" are given on pages 446–8, of volume I.

Mrs. Sigourney had a world-wide reputation as an authoress. Not only were several of her works republished in England, but they were translated into different languages. When she visited Europe, the Queen of the French presented her with a splendid diamond bracelet. At the age of twenty-four, in the year 1815, she made her first publication entitled "Moral Pieces in Prose and Verse," and the next year she published "Life and Writings of Nancy Maria Hyde." Her third publication was in 1819, the first after her marriage. She continued writing to the last days of her life; and through over fifty popular publications, scattered through near half a century of time, she maintained her rank as a ready, earnest, and impressive writer.

May 12, 1865, past seventy years of age, the author of 1815, when scarce a month this side the grave, is still writing. On that date, with a presentiment of approaching death, she thus writes her last:

Here is my Valedictory, I bring
A basket of dried fruits — autumnal leaves
And mosses, prepared from Ocean's sunless tides,
I strew them votive at your feet, sweet friends,
Who've listened to me long — with grateful thanks
For favoring smiles, that have sustained and cheered
All weariness.
I never wrote for fame —
The payment seems not worth the toil;
But wheresoe'er the kind affections sought
To mix themselves by music with the mind,
That was my inspiration and delight.
And you for many a lustrum have not frowned
Upon my lingering strain. Patient you've been Even as the Charity that never fails;
And pouring o'er my heart the gentlest tides
Of love and commendation. So I take
These tender memories to my pillow turf
Blessing you for them, when I breathe no more.
Heaven's peace be with you all!
Farewell! Farewell!

L. H SIGOURNEY.

The author of this work became acquainted with the existence of this branch of the family only by letters written to him while a member of Congress, from the sons, when they were prisoners of war. They had had vague traditions of relatives living at the North, but knew nothing of them; and their Northern relatives supposed that their father died when a boy. Of the following children, the first born was a Lieutenant in 5th Florida (Rebel) Volunteers, was taken prisoner at Gettysburg, and imprisoned at Johnson's Island. The next three sons were under Bragg, and at one time were prisoners.

John,[7] LL. D. (3589. I.), Author of this Work, son of Paul[6] and Lydia (Cogswell) Wentworth, was born 5 March, 1815, in Sandwich, N. H., at the foot of a mountain, on the first farm owned by his father in the town, — the one which he bought of Col. Smith, — and which is now occupied by John Beede, whose wife inherited it from her father, Benjamin Way.

John Wentworth
Chicago

He passed the most of the year 1819 with his maternal grandfather (Col. Amos Cogswell), in Dover, N. H., and was taken back to Sandwich by his parents in the fall thereof. The first school he attended was in the winter of 1819–20, taught by Rev. Benjamin G. Willey, now of East Sumner, Me., at the old "Potash school-house," and which was burned down in the winter of 1825–6, and the school district was afterwards divided. He attended the common schools of Sandwich until the winter of 1826–7, when he went to Gilmanton (N. H.) Academy, then taught by Mr. Foster. The summer and fall of 1827 he was at Wolfborough (N. H.) Academy, then taught by Mr. Towner, who died in Illinois several years ago. The summer of 1828 he was at New Hampton (N. H.) Academy, then taught by Rev. B. F. Farnsworth, a Baptist clergyman, who died at the South several years ago. The winter of 1828–29 he attended school in another district than his father's, about five miles therefrom, kept by the celebrated school-master, mathematician and almanac maker, Dudley Leavitt, of Meredith, N. H.

The summer of 1829 and winter of 1830 were passed at New Hampton Academy, under the same teacher as before. After passing the summer at home, he returned to New Hampton again, in the winter of 1830–1, and remained there until the winter of 1831–2, when he taught his first school on "Simpson Hill," in New Hampton, where there were many of his scholars much older than himself, and then returned to the Academy afterwards, and remained until the spring vacation.

He then went to the Academy at South Berwick, Me., then taught by Mr. Turner, and remained until the close of the summer term, when he was honored with the appointment to deliver the "Valedictory Address," at the annual exhibition there. In the autumn of that year (1832), he entered Dartmouth College, at Hanover, N. H., and graduated in 1836. His second winter in college he taught school in Hanover, about two miles from the college. His third, at Grafton, N. H. His fourth, at East Lebanon, N. H. He became of age whilst on his last year in college, and gave his first vote for Hon. Isaac Hill for Governor. The first political convention he ever attended was at Canaan, N. H., about twelve miles from East Lebanon, when teaching school at this latter place, he being a substitute for a delegate from Lebanon, N. H., who was unable to attend. It was a convention to nominate a State Senator, and he was made chairman of the committee to draft resolutions.

On Monday, 3d of October, 1836, he left his father's house in Sandwich, N. H., with no place in view but that indefinable somewhere, the "Far West," with one hundred dollars in his pocket. He travelled by post-coach to Concord, N. H., thence over the Green Mountains to Troy, N. Y., where he tarried Wednesday night; and thence to Schenectady, N. Y. Thence, for the first time, he rode on cars, taking the railroad to Utica, N. Y. Here he rode for the first time on a canal, taking it to Tonawanda, N. Y., where he took a stage for Niagara Falls, where he arrived on the evening of Sunday, the 9th. On the afternoon of the next day, he went to Buffalo in a steamboat. On the morning of Tuesday, the 11th, he took the steamboat "Columbus" (Capt. Walker), at Buffalo, and arrived at Detroit, Mich., on the evening of Thursday, the 13th. From Detroit he went on foot some forty miles into the country, visiting Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, and advertised himself as school teacher, in the Detroit Free Press. He returned to Detroit on the evening of Monday, the 17th. Sending his trunk around to Chicago, by the new brig "Manhattan," Capt. John Stewart, he took the stage for Michigan City, Ind., where he arrived on the afternoon of the 22d of October. The next day he left on foot for Chicago, travelling around the head of Lake Michigan, upon the sand of the beach. He arrived at Chicago on the forenoon of Tuesday, the 25th, and accidentally met, as he was entering the city, an old New Hampton, (N. H.,) schoolmate of his, by the name of Matthew S. Molony, formerly of Northfield, N. H., who recommended him to the United States Hotel, kept by the late John Murphy, with whom he long afterwards continued to board. He soon was employed to conduct a newspaper, called the Chicago Democrat, and eventually he became its sole proprietor. In 1839, he was appointed one of the Aides-de-Camp of Gov. Carlin. He took part, in the winter of 1836–7, in the first meeting called in the town of Chicago, to consider the propriety of adopting a City Charter. In 1837, he was elected the first corporation printer, and held that position as often as his party was in power, being about three-fourths of the twenty-five years during which he published his newspaper. In 1838, he was elected one of the Board of School Inspectors, since known as the Board of Education.

Meanwhile, he passed all his leisure moments in the study of law; and in the spring of 1841, he entered the law school at Cambridge, Mass. Upon his return to Chicago, in the fall, he deemed it for his interest not to return to the law school, but to apply at once for admission to the Bar of Illinois, as his name was prominent among the candidates for the next Congress. He was admitted to the Bar in the fall of 1841. Owing to the lateness in taking the census, the Congressional election, which should have taken place in 1842, did not take place until 1843; when Mr. Wentworth was elected from what was then the fourth District of Illinois, he being twenty-eight years of age, and the youngest member to the Twenty-eighth Congress. He was re-elected to the Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth and Thirty-first Congress, and then declined a re-election.

At the next census, he was elected the first member from the new second District, and served out the Thirty-third Congress, and then peremptorily declined a re-election. He thus served two years under acting President Tyler; was present at the inauguration of President Polk, and served his four years out; was present at the inauguration of President Taylor, and also the inauguration of acting President Fillmore, at his death; and served two years under their administration. He was then out of Congress two years. He was present at the inauguration of President Pierce, and served two years under him. He was present when John Quincy Adams fell in the House of Representatives, and was one of the committee appointed by speaker Winthrop to take his remains home to Massachusetts. He was elected a member of the Thirty-ninth Congress from a District composed of Cook County alone, under the administration of Andrew Johnson, and declined a re-election. He attended the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln, after his re-election, and was also one of the committee to receive his remains at Chicago after his assassination.

In March, 1857, he was elected Mayor of the City of Chicago for one year, and declined a re-election. He was again elected in 1860, and declined a re-election. He was elected a delegate to revise the Constitution of the State of Illinois in 1861. In that year he was also chosen a Member of the Chicago Board of Education, for three years. In 1868, he was again elected to the Board of Education, for four years. He was appointed Police Commissioner in 1863, to fill a vacancy in the term which expired in November, 1864. He received the degree of LL. D. from Dartmouth College in 1867.

On the 13th November, 1844, he was married to Roxanna Marie Loomis, daughter of Riley and Roxanna (Atwater) Loomis,* Esq.,

* Mrs. Lydia H. (1791) Sigourney, whose mother was a Wentworth, and whose family is described among the descendants of Paul,[2] wrote the following:

"Lines on the death of John Wentworth, jr., third and only child of the Hon. John and R. Marie L. Wentworth, of Chicago, who died very suddenly, at the age of two years and three months, at the house of his grandfather, Riley Loomis, Esq., in Troy, N. Y., Monday, February 23, 1852, at 10 o'clock, P. M."

Bud of beauty, early blighted,
Scion of a noble stem,
O'er thy pillow, Hope, benighted,
Tearful drops her faded gem.

Visions of parental gladness
With thy last pulsation fled;
And the cloud of funeral sadness
O'er thy grandsire's mansion spread.

Through those thriving western valleys
Never now thy feet shall press,
Nor thine eyes behold the prairies
Robed in flowery loveliness.

Yet, to purer regions soaring,
Thou hast found a clime more fair;
'Mid a cherub host adoring,
Mother! seek thy darling there.

WENTWORTHS WHOSE ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN.

WENTWORTHS WHOSE ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN.

During the last twenty-five years, the author of this work has been industriously searching records of all kinds, for the name of Wentworth; and, whenever found, every possible effort has been made to trace its connection with the descendants of Elder William Wentworth. Whenever, also, the author has seen the name of any one living, in print, or formed the acquaintance of any one bearing the name, he has industriously labored to the same end.

There is a class of itinerant persons, who find it for their supposed interest to use names other than their own. Such were bounty-jumpers during the war, pedlers, players, gift-enterprise men, lottery-dealers, and criminals. That a few of such should have assumed the name of Wentworth, as well as that of any other family, is but natural. Of this class, the author has preserved a list. Having opened communication by letter or in person with all thus bearing the name, and having had many assistants in various parts of the country, he has been assured, by all of this class, that the name has been assumed only to keep their friends and families in ignorance of their business, and that, when at home, they used their real name, and gave it to their children. Under such assurances, the names of all such have been omitted from this work.

There remain, however, some persons bearing the name, whose origin the author has been unable to trace. From the fact that he has succeeded in connecting with the emigrant settler, so many of whom so little was previously known, he has reason to hope that when a second edition of this work shall be published, all these persons will have their appropriate place among the descendants of Elder William Wentworth, or of his ancestor Reginald Wentworth of the English Genealogy, page 7.

All that the author has as yet been able to learn regarding these persons will now be given. To avoid confusion with the known descendants of the emigrant, no generation figures, nor serial numbers, are used.

MARY WENTWORTH. — On page 6, of volume III., of the records of York County, Me., is found the will of John Key, sen., of Kittery, Me., which was made 13 April, 1710; proved 30 October, 1718. He gave to his "daughter Mary Wentworth," £2, 10s. Timothy Wentworth was an appraiser of his estate. In 1714, Mary Wentworth was plaintiff, in suit in York County, vs. John Smith and Elizabeth, his wife.

No Wentworth has been found who could have been husband of this Mary. It is possible that Timothy[2] (8) could have had such a son.

MARY WENTWORTH. — James Wright and Mary Wentworth were married, in Boston, Mass., 24 September, 1712.

James Wright was a barber, in Boston. He died 24 July, 1728, aged 51 years; and his widow Mary was appointed administratrix 6 August following. He left:

I. William Wright, born 22 July, 1716.

II. Mary Wright, born 5 November, 1719.

WILLIAM WENTWORTH. — The York County (Me.) records, volume XI., page 134, give the will of Nicholas Tucker, which was made 21 January, 1716–17; proved 2 April, 1717. He gave property to wife Jane, to sons William and Joseph, to daughter Margaret; and to grandson William Wentworth, five shillings in full of his mother's portion. It is believed that this William Wentworth was the same as William[4] (185) Wentworth, on page 137, Vol. I., where reasons for this belief are given. — Joseph Gunnison was tried at Kittery, York County, Me., for killing Grace, wife of William Wentworth, and was acquitted. (In 1724, a Joseph Gunnison was Town Clerk of Kittery.)

SARAH WENTWORTH. — Sarah Wentworth was second wife of Ephraim Ricker, of Berwick, Me., or Dover, N. H. They had six children, of whom Lemuel Ricker, born 18 October, 1747, was the last. See note on page 249, Vol I.

ELIZABETH WENTWORTH. — Caleb Phillips and Elizabeth Wentworth were married in Boston, Mass., 31 December, 1730.

The probability or possibility that this was the same with Elizabeth[3] (154) Wentworth, daughter of Thomas,[3] is considered on page 114, Vol I.

MARY WENTWORTH.—Humphrey Scarlett and Mary Wentworth were married in Boston, Mass., 11 September, 1733. (See N. E. Hist. and Geneal. Register, 1861.)

Humphrey Scarlett made his will 8 August, 1738; it was proved 8 January, 1739. He had a daughter, Mary Scarlett, who married Jedediah Lincoln. The widow Scarlett married, 1 May, 1740, William Ireland, whose first wife (married 26 July, 1722) was Elizabeth Allen. Ireland made his will 5 July, 1751; it was proved 23 May, 1755. His widow was sole executrix. She made her will 18 October, 1761; it was proved 7 October, 1763. She left money to the Old South Church, in Boston, and also to sundry poor widows. She had a sister, Ann Staats, living a widow at the date of the will.

HUGH WENTWORTH.—In the Documentary History of New York, volume IV., under date of 8 February, 1737–8, is a list of 105 soldiers in the company of Capt. Cornelius Van Horne. Among these, No. 62 was "Hugh Wentwort."

AMOS WENTWORTH.—Samuel[3] (186) Wentworth, 5 April, 1786, conveyed land in Norwich, Conn., bounded by land of Amos Wentworth. This Amos Wentworth may have been son of Samuel.[4] See page 239, Vol. I., for account of him and of his family.

MOSES WENTWORTH.—Moses Wentworth and Catherine Merrifield were married, in Northampton, Mass., 23 March, 1787.

CHARITY WENTWORTH.—John Dore married Charity Wentworth. They lived in Lebanon, Me. He died about 1835; she died about 1825. They had fourteen children. See page 147, Vol. I., where her possible parentage is considered.

SALLY WENTWORTH.—Paul Shapleigh and Sally Wentworth were married, in Wakefield, N. H., in 1796.

JOHN WENTWORTH.—He came to Saratoga, N. Y., soon after he was twenty years of age. He said he was from New Hampshire, and was born about 1775; but he never gave any account of his relatives. He married Mary, daughter of Elisha Brown, who emigrated from Rhode Island. He had four daughters and one son (youngest), viz:

John Theodore, born 30 March, 1820. He once resided at Chicago, Ill., but is now an Attorney-at-law in Geneva, Wis. He is married.

JAMES WENTWORTH.—His children state that he told them that he was born in Rochester, N. H., about 1777; and, when a boy, he went to Lanesborough, Mass., and there married, about 1800, Susannah Marble, and moved to Williamstown, Mass. All the children were born either there or at Lanesborough. He served through the war of 1812, and was at the battle of Queenstown. He died at Gloversville, near Johnstown, New York, 3 February, 1858, aged 61. His wife died, 6 December, 1844, in Troy, N. Y., while living with her daughter Lucy. There is no one of the children who ever heard of the name of his father or mother, or any brother or sister, or of any relative of their father. They had:

I. Sally, born 12 March, 1800; married James (some say Joseph) Wait, and lived at Rexford Flats, in Saratoga County, N. Y., about twelve miles from Troy, N. Y. Her husband died prior to 1854, and she survived him several years. Among their children were David Wait and William Wait, of Jonesville, Saratoga County, N. Y.; and Oliver Wait, of Rexford Flats, of Saratoga County, N. Y.

II. David, born 23 August, 1804, at Lanesborough, Mass.; never married; is a painter, and has lived for many years past in the vicinity of Ellenburgh Depot, Clinton County, N. Y. He was last heard from at East Batemantown, in that county.

V. John, born 12 August, 1808; married, 24 June, 1848, Sarah J. Bates, born in Thompson, Sullivan County, N. Y., 9 August, 1823. He was killed by lightning,

16 July, 1853, while driving a team about six miles from Neversink P. O., Sullivan County, N. Y. His widow married, 15 February, 1851, Ezra P. Stevens. John and Sarah J. (Bates) Wentworth had:

1. Dennis Lyman, born 22 May, 1849.
2. Hester-Rebecca, born 15 February, 1851.
3. Julietta D., born 29 December, 1852.

These children with their mother now live at Woodbourne, Sullivan County, N. Y.

Stephen G., born 10 October, 1811, at Williamstown, Mass.; married, 18 April, 1838, in Saline County, Mo., Eliza Jane Kinkade, of Union, Monroe County, Va., born 17 October, 1820, in Greenbrier County, Va. WILLIAM (or JEREMIAH) WENTWORTH.—The first known of him, by the author, was the announcement of his death, at Rome, N. Y., December, 1852, aged 62 years. Upon writing, it was found that his wife was Betsey Ferry, and that she was born in Rome, N. Y., 14 March, 1798, died 15 July, 1851. His children and neighbors knew but little of his origin. All agreed that he had given his birthplace as Dover, N. H., and the date of his birth, 20 August, 1790; that he went away from home when about eighteen years of age, against the wishes of his friends, went into the army, and was in the war of 1812. After the expiration of his term of service, he went to Sackett's Harbor, where he became acquainted with a brother of his wife. His children differ as to the cause of the uncertainty of his name. He was called both William and Jeremiah. Some assert that he changed his name when he went to the war. Others assert that he always had both names, his name being either William Jeremiah, or Jeremiah William. His children think his father's name was James or John, and that of his mother, Betsey; that he had some relative named Miles, and that perhaps that was the name of his mother. They are confident that they heard him speak of a brother Luke, who died leaving children, and of sisters Sally, Polly, and Betsey, whose marriage he never heard of, and that he was the youngest of his father's family. About thirteen years before his death, he visited Dover for the first time after he left it; when he returned, he reported his father, mother and brother dead, but that some of his brother's children were living, but had moved away, and that he could hear nothing of his sisters. He had children:

I. Nancy, born 20 November, 1814; died aged two years.

II. Henry, born 22 October, 1816; married, about 1846, Jane Trenans. She died prior to 1853, and he went to California.

THADDEUS WENTWORTH.—He was a successful merchant in Philadelphia. The author of this work was in his store several years since, at different times, and conversed with him, and also with one of his sons; but could gain no other information of his origin than that he was born in Orange County, N. Y. Several acquaintances named Wentworth made attempts to trace his connection with the "emigrant settler," but they never could trace out a single relative besides his very respectable family of children; nor is the town of his birth known. Every possible effort will be made to ascertain the place of birth and the names of the parents of this Thaddeus for a second edition.

His own family record is as follows:

THADDEUS WENTWORTH was born in Orange County, N. Y., 5 December, 1792; was married in Philadelphia, Penn., 25 March, 1819, to Hannah Homan, and died there, 10 February, 1867.

PAUL WENTWORTH.—He is said to have been born in Kittery, Me. He married Mary Coffin, 4 February, 1782, at the house of Deacon Benjamin Knight, of Berwick, Me. (Deacon Knight had a brother, John Knight, who married her sister, Sarah Coffin, 9 October, 1773. Berwick records mention a Jonathan Knight, of Berwick, Me., who was "published" to Abiah Coffin, of Conway, N. H., 21 May, 1783. Benjamin Knight was a descendant of Grindall Knight, one of the first settlers of Berwick.) There was a Paul Wentworth, jr., "published" at Berwick, 7 February, 1778, to Lydia Coffin. Under the record of the marriage was written, "Forbid by Jonathan Hamilton." No reason was given. If applicable to this Paul, it may have been because he was a minor: but, when Paul was married, the "jr." was not given. This Lydia Coffin married James Sterling, and lived at Conway, N. H. There was a John Knight, of Berwick, "published" to Mary Coffin, 22 March, 1766. But there are no means of knowing whether this is the same one that was married to Paul Wentworth or not.

Paul enlisted in the Revolutionary war when very young. There is nothing but very vague tradition as to his parentage, and all that tradition has upon the subject is, that his father died when he was not more than five years of age, and that his mother was named Patience. Some have a tradition that he had a brother William, who went away and was never afterwards heard from. A thorough examination brings to light nothing concerning him or his family prior to his enlistment in the war. After the war, he moved to Waterborough, Me. Then he moved to that part of Conway, N. H., known as "Goshen," where he lived until about 1823, when he moved to Knox, Me., and there died, 4 September, 1833, aged 75. He drew a pension for his revolutionary services, until his death, and then his widow drew the pension until her death, which took place at Knox, Me., 4 September, 1842, aged 79 years. They lived with their son Stephen the latter part of their lives.

Paul and Mary (Coffin) Wentworth had children (all born in Conway, except the eldest, and perhaps he also):

I. Paul, born 5 August, 1787.
II. Patience, born 1788.
III. Stephen, born 1 April, 1789.

PAUL WENTWORTH (Commodore). — There came to Boston, Mass., from one of the West India islands (the name of which has not been handed down), a gentleman named Paul Wentworth, bringing letters to Samuel[4] (87) Wentworth, of Boston, Mass., and to Mark Hunking[4] (88) Wentworth, of Portsmouth, N. H., both brothers of the then Gov. Benning[4] (80) Wentworth, and both leading merchants in New England. He was a well-educated gentleman; but when he came to America, and how long he tarried, there are no means of knowing. All that an extensive examination of the public records in New Hampshire shows of him is, that he was taxed for a pew in the church at Portsmouth, in 1757. Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth called him "My kinsman," but it is not known that Paul had relatives anywhere; and, as he was not a descendant of Elder William Wentworth, it was certain he had none in America. He remained in New England but a short time at first; but went to Surinam, in South America, and married a rich widow, who soon died without children, and left him the heir of all her large property. After her death, he was in New Hampshire, Holland, and England. There is evidence that in London he was engaged in the formation of companies for the purchase, improvement, and sale of lands in New Hampshire. Belknap's History of New Hampshire (volume III., p. 14) says:

> Holland's survey of New Hampshire was made in 1773 and 1774, at the expense of the Province. The result is contained in a large map, engraved in London in 1784, by the direction and at the expense of Paul Wentworth, Esq.

A copy of this map can now be seen at the Athenæum in Portsmouth, N. H.

In a letter to Lord Hillsborough, dated 2 May, 1769, recommending him as agent for New Hampshire at London, in place of Hon. Barlow Trecothic, who wished to resign, Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth speaks of Paul Wentworth as "Personally known to most of the House and Council and extremely respected by the whole country."

From this, it must be inferred that he had passed considerable time in New Hampshire.

In the American Archives, volume I., page 930, there will be found a letter addressed by the Congress sitting at Philadelphia, 26 October, 1774, to the American agents at London; their names are given as Paul Wentworth, Dr. Benjamin Franklin, William Bollan,* Dr. Arthur Lee, Thomas Life, Edmund Burke, and Charles Garthe.

On page 938, of volume I., Paul Wentworth is put down as "of New Hampshire." These two dates were before the extent of the Revolution could have been predicted. But, 5 February, 1775, there is found in the American Archives, volume II., page 1824, a letter signed by William Bollan, B. Franklin, and Arthur Lee, only, as American agents.

New Hampshire probably dropped him, as sympathizing with the mother country. But his name does not appear among those proscribed by the New Hampshire Act of November, 1778; and it is doubtful whether he had been in the State since the appointment of John[5] (371) Wentworth as Governor, or owned any property there to confiscate.

John Farmer, in his edition of Dr. Belknap's History of New Hampshire, mentions him as one of the Provincial Counsellors in 1773; and, perhaps for want of any other place to locate him, calls him of Somersworth, N. H., mistaking him for the great uncle of the author of this work, Paul[5] (530), son of Col. John.[4] Dr. Belknap himself does not give his name among the Counsellors. Lyon, in his New Hampshire Annual Register, makes him Counsellor in 1772.

The author of this work has seen letters of Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth, from which he makes the following extracts; the first two were addressed to Paul himself:

July 17, 1769. "I desire to make you Counsellor, and will do so upon the first vacancy."

In the same letter, he hints that his own father, Mark Hunking[4] (88) ("who never attends out of delicacy"), will resign in his (Paul's) favor.

October 27, 1769. "If Col. [Peter] Gilman's Mandamus is not forwarded, pray (if possible) prevent it. I intend it for you. He was troublesome in the Assembly, and I wanted to get him out. But since, matters are altered, and I wish his continuance."

* William Bollan was an Attorney at Boston, Mass. He was sent to England in 1749 to solicit reimbursement for expenditures in taking Louisburg, and he married Frances, daughter of Gov. Shirley, who died 21 March, 1771, in her twenty-fourth year, in giving birth to her first child. Franklin was from Pennsylvania, and Lee from Virginia. Burke was the great English statesman, and it is probable that Life and Garthe were also Englishmen.

Early in 1770, he thus wrote to the Secretary of State:

By the death of Theodore Atkinson, Jr., Esq., there is another vacancy in His Majesty's Council, to which I beg leave to recommend Paul Wentworth, Esq., of Portsmouth, in this Province, now in London, being a gentleman of large property, influence, ability and loyalty, and every way qualified and disposed eminently to promote His Majesty's service in that place.

October 25, 1770, he thus wrote to the Earl of Hillsborough:

My unfeigned acknowledgments are also presented that your Lordship has been pleased to receive and communicate the King's pleasure in regard to Mr. Wentworth's appointment to be of the Council in the room of the late Mr. Atkinson.

From a list * made by Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth, dated 30 March, 1775, it appears that Paul was then reckoned as one of the

* A state of the Council in His Majesty's Province of New Hampshire:

Theodore Atkinson, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1732. Married the Governor's aunt. See Hannah[4] (82), vol. I., page 168.]

Daniel Warner, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1733; died 1778; father of Counsellor Col. Jonathan Warner, below.]

Mark Hunking Wentworth, resident at Portsmouth; for some time past rendered incapable to attend by sickness. [The Governor's father. Appointed 1739. Vol. I., page 183.]

Peter Livius, absent from the Province since April, 1772. [Appointed 1765. Never returned to New Hampshire. Died 1795, aged 68. Vol. I., page 297.]

Jonathan Warner, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1766. Married two cousins of the Governor. Died 14 May, 1804, aged 87. See vol. I., page 180.]

Daniel Rindge, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1766. Died 12 January, 1789, aged 63. Nephew, (if not brother,) to the Governor's mother. Vol. I., page 184.]

George Jaffrey, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1776. Son of George Jaffrey, whose second wife was the Governor's aunt, Sarah[4] (83). Page 173, vol. I.]

Daniel Rogers, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1766. Married sister to the Governor's mother. Page 184, vol. I.]

Peter Gilman, resident at Exeter. [Appointed 1771. Married the Governor's father's cousin Dorothy[4] (101) Sherburne. Vol. I., page 196. Died 1 December, 1788, aged 84.]

Thomas Westbrook Waldron, resident at Dover. [Appointed 1772. Died 3 April, 1785, aged 63.]

Paul Wentworth, resident in London, not sworn in. [Appointed 1772. Vol. II., page 348.

John Sherburne, resident at Portsmouth. [Appointed 1774. His father John[4] (103), of Vol. I, page 198, was cousin to the Governor's father.]

The foregoing is an exact state of the Members of the Council who are constant

Counsellors, but the following words were appended to his name: "resident in London; not sworn in." As he was not in the country after this date during the continuance of the Provincial Government (if he ever was afterwards), the discrepancies in the statements concerning his having been Counsellor are easily accounted for.

The published "Correspondence of King George III. with Lord North" shows that Paul Wentworth was a Confidential Agent of the British Government at Paris during the American Revolution. It was his business to watch the movements of France towards the American Provinces. The king alludes to him as early as 16 July, 1777, and as late as 18 September, 1780. The king had great confidence in his sagacity, but feared he sometimes wrote letters to affect the stock market.

Mrs. Gore, the authoress, whose mother, Mary[6] (979), was married from his house, collected for the author of this work all the following information not collected from public documents:

He lived in the very best of society when in Holland and France, as well as in England. About the year 1780, he took up his residence at the Brandenburgh House in Hammersmith, and lived there in great state. This house afterwards became celebrated as the residence and place of death of Queen Caroline, wife of George IV. The Marquis and Marchioness of Rockingham and others of the nobility frequently visited him there. Dr. Benj. Franklin was an intimate friend of his. Gov. John[5] (371), Lady Wentworth, and their son Charles-Mary[6] (995), and Lady Wentworth's mother (widow of Samuel[4] (87)), and others of the American Wentworth families lived there more or less with him. He was present in London, 5 November, 1784, when he stood sponsor with Lady Wentworth, at the christening of Frances Augusta[5] (984), daughter of Lady Wentworth's brother Benning[5].

in their attendance, unless accidentally prevented; except as I have denoted. I have also received a Mandamus to admit Ammi Ruhamah Cutter, Esq., to the Council; but the number being previously completed according to the Royal instructions, that gentleman has not yet required to be sworn in.

New Hampshire, March 30, 1775. JOHN WENTWORTH.

The words in brackets above were inserted by the author.

As the governor was appointed in 1766, it is probable that the appointees of that year were of his own selection. It will thus be seen that he, like his predecessor and uncle, Governor Benning[4] (80), preferred to have a large proportion of his family relatives for Counsellors. But when the Revolutionary crisis came, all but two (and those, the two not then residing in the country), forsook him.

Sabine, in his History of American Loyalists, says:

Wentworth, Paul — was at London, 1785, and joined other loyalists in a petition to the Government for relief.

Dr. Belknap, in his History of New Hampshire, volume III., page 297, gives the name of Paul Wentworth, of London, among those whose names are "conspicuous among the benefactors to Dartmouth College."

In 1789, Dartmouth conferred the degree of LL.D. upon him; this was the last instance of any American college conferring that degree upon any person named Wentworth until Dartmouth College conferred it upon the author of this work in 1867.

About the year 1790, during the excitement growing out of the attempt of "Jack the Painter" to fire the Arsenal at Portsmouth, England, Paul got involved in some political difficulties, and became under suspicion by the Government as a disaffected person. This caused him to dispose of all his property, and to emigrate to Surinam, where he had large estates.

One night, he heard a horse tramping in his garden. He arose in haste to drive it out, and caught a violent cold and fever, of which he died in a few days, in December, 1793, on his own plantation.

Before leaving England, he sent to his native West India island for a young man named Nathaniel Wentworth, whom he called his nephew, and adopted him as a son. After his death, this Nathaniel Wentworth became sole heir; and, wishing to return to his native island in the West Indies, converted all the property into money, and set sail therefor. But, on the voyage, the ship foundered, and one boy only was saved, who gave this account of the end of Nathaniel Wentworth and the loss of all the wealth of Paul. Stories were put afloat that the crew rose upon him and murdered him for his money, but they were never credited.

By the sudden death and hasty settlement of the estate of Paul Wentworth, Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth became exceedingly embarrassed financially, as they were engaged in many joint speculations, and so incurred many joint liabilities, and he had trusted everything to Paul. Their intimacy will best appear by the following:

Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth, in a letter dated Halifax, N. S., 24 February, 1784, and directed to Paul Wentworth, or his Attorney at Surinam, says:

Herewith I inclose to you a bill of lading for nineteen negro slaves.

He then praises them highly, mentioning the good conduct and qualifications of some of them by name. All had been christened by Dr. Breynton, rector of St. Paul's Church, Halifax, N. S., 11 February, 1784. He continues:

I wish them employed solely upon the estate, and for the use of my dearest friend and relative, Paul Wentworth, Esq. I would rather have liberated them than sent them to any estate where I was not assured of their being treated with care and humanity. About three months since, I wrote Mr. W., to London, that I had purchased these negroes, and should ship them in March for his estate in Surinam. He has undoubtedly wrote to you on the subject; but, as it may be possible that passages may prevent your letters arriving before this reaches you, I think it necessary to inform you that Mr. Paul Wentworth is my near relation, and most intimate, dearest and confidential friend; that on my return to England in 1778 (when the late American war rendered it necessary for me to remove from the Province of New Hampshire, of which I had been Governor from the year 1766), Mr. Paul Wentworth and myself were but one family, and lived together until August last, when my public duty as Surveyor-General of all the British dominions in America, rendered it expedient for me again to visit this country; and that with every other interest I have, my only son is happily confided to his unexampled affection and friendship.

The author has not been able to find any letters of Paul Wentworth, nor even his autograph, nor his birth place, nor his age, nor any relative except the above nephew Nathaniel. The intimacy between him and John[5] (371) was contracted before his appointment as Governor of New Hampshire; for familiar letters are preserved, written immediately after he entered upon his official duties, signifying a desire to have Paul with him in New Hampshire; and, at the time of the breaking up of the Provincial Government, he was trying to bring about his appointment as Lieutenant Governor. While Paul was ambitious of wealth, Gov. John[5] (371) was ambitious of position, and each found pleasure in finding opportunities to promote the ends of the other. Unless Paul was a natural son (of which there is not the least tradition) of some near relative of Gov. John[5] (371), there was no relationship between them.

BENJAMIN B. WENTWORTH.—His father left his (B. B.'s) mother, when he was about five years old, with two other young children, viz., Charles and Susan. Benjamin B. was born 1 September, 1826, about two miles out of Bangor, Me. He lived at Harmony, Me., until seven years old, at Fairfield, Me., until seventeen years old, and then at Bath, Me., until twenty-one years old. He is a house-joiner, and now lives in Pittsfield, Me. He knows not the family name of his mother, nor of any relative of hers, nor of any relative of his father. He always heard that his father's name was Benjamin. His younger brother, Charles, was brought up by Hiram Marble, of Newbury, Me.; but Benjamin B. knows not the present residence of his brother Charles, or of Mr. Marble. His sister, Susan, still younger, is understood to have died young, while with her mother.

Benjamin B. Wentworth married, 5 February, 1854, in Albion, Me., Emily L. Judkins, of that place. She was born in Bingham, Me., 3 February, 1837, and was daughter of Hiram Judkins. (Hiram Judkins was born in Fayette, Me., 18th September, 1806, and married Ann Bessey, born 19 July 1807.)

Benjamin B. and Emily M. (Judkins) Wentworth had:

I. Benjamin B., born in Albion, Me., 12 November, 1856.
II. Laura A., born in Albion, Me., 1 December, 1860.
III. Mary E., born in Newport, Me., 28 June, 1863.
IV. Millard F., born in St. Albans, Me., 20 March, 1867.

JOHN WENTWORTH, OF SULLIVAN CO., N. Y.— After the printing of page 322, vol. II., it was ascertained that two Johns were there confounded; John, son of James, being ascertained to be still alive, and being hereafter described in notes to James[5] (885) on page 282, vol. I. The question then arose, who was the John killed by lightning, and whose family is described on page 323, vol. II? The author, after due inquiry, thought the true answer could be given by correcting Joseph[6] (1170.IV.), of page 345, vol. I., to read as follows:

"1170. IV. Joseph[6], born in 1806; married, in 1826, Sarah, daughter of Jesse Vermilye, and sister of Edward Vermilye, who married his sister Mary[6] (1168) Wentworth. Joseph[6] left home about 1832, and was never afterwards heard from. His wife died about 1836, as her son John[7] thought he was nine years old when he attended her funeral; but he had no remembrance of his father. She died at her father's house, in Pittsfield, Otsego Co., N. Y., and her father died soon after at the same place. They had:

1. John[7], born 28 March, 1827, at New Berlin, Chenango Co., N. Y. In July, 1832, his mother took him to a Mr. Palmeter, of Brookfield, Madison Co., N. Y., who was to keep him until he was 21 years of age. But Mr. Palmeter dying before the expiration of his term of service, he went, about 1847, to near Woodbourne, Sullivan Co., N. Y., where his family now reside. He married, 24 June, 1848, Sarah J. Bates, born in Thompson, Sullivan Co., N. Y., 9 August, 1823, where his children were born. He was killed by lightning while driving a team, 16 July, 1853, in Sullivan Co., N. Y., about six miles from the Neversink post-office. His widow married, 15 December, 1861, Ezra P. Stevens, of Woodbourne, Sullivan Co., N. Y., where she now resides.

John[7] and Sarah J. (Bates) Wentworth had:

1. Dennis Lyman[8], born 22 May, 1849.
2. Hester Rebecca[8], born 15 February, 1851.
3. Julietta D.[8], born 29 December, 1852.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

After the foregoing sheets had been printed, the publication was delayed for the completion of some of the engravings and the index. During this delay, a few copies were bound for the examination of those interested, with a view to additions and corrections. The author also continued his researches and correspondence. These "Additions and Corrections" are the result. In the next edition, they will be embodied in their proper places.

The author intends to continue his researches, in the endeavor to have all errors corrected and all omissions supplied in another edition. He hopes that all persons interested will assist him in these efforts. It has been suggested that he publish a list of all persons who have wrongfully taken the name of Wentworth.

PAGE 4, line 1. "James Wentworth." He was grandson of James[5] (883) Wentworth, erroneously stated, on page 282, as having died single, but who was the James whose origin is given as unknown, on page 322, vol. II., and whose family, there given, will be found corrected in these "Additions and Corrections," in their proper place.

PAGE 14, line 3 from bottom. Instead of "and his son," read "and his younger son."

PAGE 14, last line. After the period, insert: "Lewis, eldest son of Edward, second Baron, was made Earl of Rockingham, which title passed to his grandson Lewis, son of Edward who died in his father's lifetime. From him it passed to his brother Thomas, on whose death, without issue, it became extinct. The barony, however, passed to Thomas Watson Wentworth, Earl of Malton, son of the Thomas Watson (younger son of Edward, second Baron Rockingham), who took the name of Wentworth. He was made Marquis of Rockingham."

PAGE 15, line 6. After the words "John Wentworth, of North Elmsall," append a note as follows: "In a letter from William Fitzwilliam[6] (988) Wentworth, son of Benning,[5] in the line of Samuel[4] and Lt. Gov. John,[3] to his brother Samuel Henry[6] (991), he says:

"There is one paper I got from Sir Charles-Mary Wentworth, called 'The genealogy of Sir John Wentworth,' which commences with John Wentworth, of North Elmsall, who married Joan, daughter of Sir Richard le Tyas, and the pedigree is carried down to Robert 'ye person now in the Marshalsea.' The paper is entirely without date, and goes no further, not showing how Sir John Wentworth was connected with this Robert in the Marshalsea; if it did, it might be very well, as our descent would be the same."

Sir John[5] (371) and his son Charles-Mary[6] (995) both died without a knowledge of their ancestry, beyond William Wentworth, the first American settler; and the above was their nearest approach to it; and they probably would have acquired it had they not been looking in the direction of Sir Thomas Wentworth, the beheaded Earl of Strafford.

PAGE 15, line 17.—Joseph Lemuel Chester, Esq., has furnished the following account of the descendants of Sir Roger[14] Wentworth:

By reference to Generation XIII., it will be seen that John Wentworth of North Elmsall, by his wife Agnes Dronsfield, had four sons, and the history of the family has already been continued through the direct line of the eldest son, John. We will now pursue that of the second son, viz:

(14) Sir Roger Wentworth, who married Margery, daughter and heir of Philip le Despencer, of Nettlestead, County Suffolk, and widow of John, Lord de Roos. She died 20 April, 1478, having survived her husband, the date of whose death is unknown. They had three sons and three daughters, viz:

Philip, from whom descended the Barons Wentworths of Nettlestead (long since extinct); Henry (of whom hereafter); Thomas (who became a priest, and was one of his mother's executors); Elizabeth (who married Sir John Calthorpe); Margaret (who married Sir William Hopton); and Agnes (who married Sir Robert Constable). The line now to be pursued is through the second son, viz:

(15) Henry Wentworth, Esq., of Codham Hall, Co. Essex, who married, first, Elizabeth, daughter and heir of Henry Howard (second son of Sir John Howard), by Mary, daughter of Sir Henry Hussey, of Co. Sussex, Kt. They had an only son, afterwards Sir Roger Wentworth, of Codham Hall, Sheriff of Essex and Hertfordshire in 1499, who died 9 August, 1539, and was buried in the church of Gosfield, Co. Essex. He owned the magnificent mansion and fine estate of Gosfield Hall, and the chapel in which he was buried (and which he rebuilt) is still known as the Wentworth chapel, although the estate passed away from the family quite 300 years ago. The line of Sir Roger, so far as is known, terminated in heiresses. His father, Henry Wentworth, married, 2d, Jane, daughter and heir of Henry Fitz Simon, according to the old authorities, but in the will of her son Nicholas, she is called Dame Jane Fitz Lewes, and it is probable that she remarried a knight of that name. They had also an only son Nicholas. Henry Wentworth, the father, died 22 March, 1482–3, and was buried at Nettlestead. The younger son, viz:

(16) Sir Nicholas Wentworth succeeded to the estates of his mother which were chiefly at Lillingston Lovel, in Oxfordshire, and there took up his residence. In his will dated 7 February, 1551–2, and proved 24 June 1557, he calls himself "Chief Porter of Calais," then an important government post. It is not known when or where he died. According to the visitation of Oxfordshire, he married Jane, daughter of John Josselyne, of Newhall Josselyne, Co. Essex, Esqr. (but another authority calls him of Sabridgeworth, in Hertfordshire), by his wife Philippa, daughter of William Bradbury. She proved her husband's will in 1557, and was subsequently buried at *Burnham, Co. Bucks, but the monument does not give the date of her death or burial.

*In the churchyard at Burnham, Co. of Rockingham, is a black marble table with the following, in golden letters:

"Here lyeth also the body of Dame Jane Wentworth, mother to the same Paul Wentworth, and wife to Sir Nicholas Wentworth, whose bodies are here to expect a joyful resurrection."

The other inscriptions upon the same table are as follows:

"Here lyeth the body of Paul Wentworth, Esq., son of Sir Nicholas Wentworth,

They had issue as follows: Peter (of whom hereafter); Henry (who became counsellor-at-law, and died in London, 1 January, 1613–4, having married Anastacy, daughter and heir of William Hale, of Maldon, Co. Essex, where she died 4 June, 1634, their only issue being a daughter Cicely, who married Francis Michell, of Theyden Garnon, Co. Essex, and died before her mother); Paul (who married Helen, daughter of Richard Agmondesham, of Heston, Co. Middlesex, and widow of William Tyllesley of Burnham, Co. Bucks, Esq.; he died 13 January, 1593–4, and was buried at Burnham; her will was dated 24 August, and proved 8 November, 1615, in which she is called of Burnham Abbey: they had issue four sons and four daughters; but it is believed that their entire line was long since extinct); Francis (who was the youngest son at the date of his father's will, which directed that he should become a priest), and Clara (only daughter, married before 1552

Knight; he died 13th January, 1593, being in the 60th year of his age, and as he lived the most Christian life, so he died most comfortably, strong in faith, steadfast in hope, fervent in love, a zealous professor of the truth, and an earnest detestor of all superstition. By his wife Helen, he had four sons and four daughters, viz: Francis (who died in his childhood, and lyeth here buried); Paul, Peter and William; Anne, Helen, Elizabeth and Mary. Helen married William Day, Esq. Anne married Norton Knatchbull, Esq.; died in 1591, and also lies here."

On a small plate of brass over her tomb, are the following lines:

"Knatchbulli conjux, Wentworthi septima proles,
Tempora post vitæ bis duodena suæ,
Annæ immaturo commisit membra sepulchro
Et quo nupta fuit mense, sepulta fuit."

There was one Peter Wentworth, probably the son above mentioned, who was a very "busy and factious Puritan" in the House of Commons against the King and Bishops; and so was a Paul in the time of Elizabeth.

The following are among the baptisms in this same church at Burnham:

Anne Wentworth, 16 September, 1565.
Francis Wentworth, 3 October, 1566.
Paul Wentworth, 9 February, 1568.
Peter Wentworth, 25 April, 1574.
William Wentworth, 22 January, 1576.

Some years ago, the author of this work bought at an antiquarian bookstore in Boston, Mass., a book printed in London in 1615, entitled "Wentworth's Orisons," and dedicated to King James by "Paule Wentworth." It has 256 pages, and embraces not only forms of prayer for every contingency in life, but also treatises upon the different forms. It has occurred to the author of this work that Paul, son of Paul and grandson of Sir Nicholas, might have been the author of "Wentworth's Orisons."

to Edward Boyes, of Kent). We return to the eldest son and heir, viz:

(17) Peter Wentworth, Esq., of Lillingston Darrell, Co. Bucks, of whom the visitations and other authorities give only his name, and omit altogether that of his wife. He is, however, thoroughly identified by name in the records concerning his children and grandchildren, as well as by the will of his father, Sir Nicholas, who mentions both him and his wife as living at its date, in 1551–2. (The writer has numerous notes respecting the Wentworths, of Lillingston, but is unwilling, owing to their confusion and uncertainty, to speculate upon them; they will doubtless take proper shape in due time, by means of future discoveries.) Of his issue there is no doubt. He had three sons and at least one daughter, viz: Nicholas (of whom hereafter); Walter (who was of Castle Bytham, Co. Lincoln, where he was buried 13 October, 1627, having had by his wife, (a widow Russell,) a daughter Mary, married to John Browne, and a son, Samuel, of Gray's Inn, London, who died without issue about the 1st of January, 1637–8); Thomas of Lincoln's Inn, London (who married a daughter of Sir Martin Lister, Kt., and had several children, whose history is still in doubt); and Frances (who married Walter Strickland, Esq., of Boynton, Co. York, and had a son William, who was created a Baronet, 30 July, 1641). The eldest son, viz.,

(18) Nicholas Wentworth, succeeded to the Lillingston estates, but called himself in his will (dated 20 January, 1612–3, and proved 11 May following) of Wolston, Co. Warwick, having married Susanna, daughter and co-heir of Roger Wigston, Esq., of that place, who survived her husband, but died before 1622. They had issue as follows: Sir Peter Wentworth, Knight of the Bath (who, according to his funeral certificate at the College of Arms, died, unmarried, at his manor House of Lillingston Lovell, on the 1st of December, 1675, in his 84th year, and was buried in the Chancel of the Church there on the 21st of the same month); Paul (who was living unmarried at his brother's death, and of course at a very advanced age, and it may be assumed, died without issue); Elizabeth (who married Francis Wendy, Esq., of Haslingfield, Co. Cambridge, and was living his widow in 1622, at Sutton, in Bedfordshire, among whose issue was Sir Thomas Wendy, K. B.); Susanna (who married Rowland Wilcox, Esq., and had, among other issue, Anne, who married Christopher Roper, son of Viscount Baltinglass); Sarah (who died unmarried, at Wolston, in 1667); Sibilla (of whom hereafter); and Anne (who married, in 1622, John Welbore, Esq., of Foxton, Co. Cambridge, and had issue). It will be seen, therefore, that the direct male line from Sir Nicholas Wentworth became extinct in this generation, and the estates passed to co-heiresses, the history of the most prominent of whom will now be pursued, viz:

That of (19) Sibilla, fourth daughter of Nicholas and Susanna Wentworth, who married Fisher Dilke, Esq., of Shustoke, Co. Warwick, second son of Sir Thomas Dilke, Kt., by Anne, eldest daughter of Sir Clement Fisher, Kt. She died in June, 1660, aged about 65, but the date of her death has not been ascertained. They had among other issue, a son

(20) Samuel Dilke, Esq., of the city of Litchfield, who died in 1701. By his first wife, he had three sons and one daughter, who, or their issue, all died unmarried. By his second wife, Chrysogon, daughter of Mr. Droper, of Shropshire, he had a son

(21) Wentworth Dilke, citizen of London, who was born 26 December, 1676, and died 5 March, 1726. He married Mary, daughter of Jonathan Gumbleton, Esq., of the city of Salisbury, who was born 30 September, 1675, and died 24 March, 1742-3. They had a son

(22) Wentworth Dilke, who was born 4 April, 1698, and was buried at Portsea, in Hampshire, 22 November, 1781. He married Winifred, daughter of Mr. Street, who was born in 1721, and died 20 March, 1762. Their son

(23) Charles Wentworth Dilke, was born 25 November, and baptised 16 December, 1742, at St. George's, Hanover Square. He was formerly of Portsmouth, Hants, but latterly of the city of Chichester, where he died 25 March, 1826, and was buried in the cathedral cloisters. He married Sarah, daughter of Benjamin Blewford, Esq., of Poole, Co. Dorset, who was born 15 April, 1765, married at Portsea, Hants, 17 Febuary, 1783, and died 27 October, 1825, and was buried in the cloisters of Chichester cathedral. Their eldest son

(24) Charles Wentworth Dilke, Esq. (best known as the proprietor and editor of the London Athenæum) was born 8 December, 1789, and died 10 August, 1864. He married Maria Dover, daughter of Edward Walker, Esq., on the 10 of October, 1806, and she died 12 November, 1850. Their only son, now

(25) Sir Charles Wentworth Dilke, Bart., was born 18 February 1810, and is still living. He was created a Baronet on the 22d of January, 1862, the chief moving cause thereto being his efficient services in connection with the two great Exhibitions of 1851 and 1862. He has been in the commission of the lieutenancy for the city of London, and a member of Parliament. He married, 30 March, 1840, Mary, daughter of Capt. William Chatfield, of the Madras Cavalry, who was born at Arnee, near Arcott, in India, 21 January, 1819, and died 16 September, 1858, and was buried at Kensal Green Cemetery. Their eldest son and heir apparent is

(26) Charles Wentworth Dilke, Esq., who was born 4 September, and baptized 8 December, 1843, at Trinity Church, Chelsea, Co. Middlesex. He is now (October, 1868) one of the Liberal candidates for the new Parliament for the new borough of Chelsea, and is the twenty-sixth in descent, through the female line, from Wentworth the Saxon.

Page 15, line 13 from bottom. Instead of "the Marquis was also the twenty-fifth in descent" read "the twenty-sixth in descent."

Page 20. To the end of line 9 from the bottom, add: "They had also Margaret, who married Sir William Noel, Bart.; who had Sir Thomas Noel, Bart. (who died without issue), and Sir John Noel, Bart. Sir John had Sir Clobery Noel, Bart., who had son Sir Edward Noel, Bart., who succeeded to the Barony (eighth Baron), and became Viscount Wentworth; his daughter Judith married Sir Ralph Milbanke, Bart., whose daughter Anne Isabella married Lord Byron. Judith's brother Thomas was second Viscount, but died without issue. Judith's sister Sophia married Nathaniel, second Baron Scarsdale; her son was Nathaniel, third Baron Scarsdale, mentioned on page 21, line 2, on whose death the abeyance ceased.

Page 46, line 4. To Christopher Lawson, add note: Christopher Lawson, "At ye Court holden at Exeter ye 5th of ye 7th Month 1643, binds himself to appear and answer to Complaint of William Coale [whose name is not signed to the Combination], Thomas Wright, James Walles, William Wentworth and Thomas Petit."

PAGE 47, line 5. The following grants to Elder William[1] Wentworth are on record in Dover, N. H.:

5 December, 1652: 40 acres of upland "to the northward of half-way swamp," on the north side of John Heard's 40 acre lot, "and so along the cart-waye thar Raeneth to the marsh fortie Roedd in Breadth and one hundred and sixtie Roedd in lenketh."

Page 48, line 2. To the word "Mary" append the following note:

"This daughter Mary could not have been the wife of Edward Rishworth — see note on pages 169 and 170, vol. I, — where her marriage is given (1) to Edward Lyde and (2) to the first Theodore Atkinson. Yet, as Wheelwright in his will speaks of son-in-law Edward Rishworth and granddaughter Mary White, who was daughter of Edward Rishworth, Mrs. Rishworth must have been some other daughter."

Page 50, line 7. Append to "Isaac Grosse" the following note: "Baptized by Rev. Peter Thacher, of Milton, Mass., October 9, 1692, Thomas, ye son of Isaac Grosse, on account of his mother, Elizabeth Grosse, daughter to father Atherton."

Page 54, line 3. To the word "Preacher," add the following note:

Hon. Tappan[6] (2342) Wentworth is positive that he saw in early life in the possession of his grandmother, Dorothy[4] (269) Wentworth, a bundle of old manuscripts which she told him were the sermons of Elder William, whose great grand-daughter she was. She was born in 1754 and died in 1839. The manuscripts were lost sight of many years since. She was the only daughter of Ezekiel,[3] who inherited the homestead of Ephraim,[2] and her husband was her second cousin, Evans,[4] (256) grandson of Elder William's son Benjamin.[2] After the union of these grand-children of Elder William's younger sons, it is more natural to suppose that their house would be the receptacle of his manuscripts than that of any other of his descendants.

Page 69, line 22 from the bottom. To the year "1716," add:

Ellis Ames, of Canton, Mass., has the original power of Attorney given by "John Wentworth, of Boston, husbandman," dated 6th October, 1716, constituting "my loving son John Wentworth, Jr., of Dorchester, husbandman, to be my true and lawful Attorney." It was acknowledged before Samuel Checkley, Justice of the Peace, and witnessed by James Wright and Edward Thomas. This is a full power of Attorney to collect all his debts, but says nothing of his right to sell anything. It looks as if he had been doing extensive trading at Dorchester, and had moved away or was going to do so. We have no account of John[2] afterwards. This looks as if the Mary Wentworth described among those whose origin is unknown, on page 320, vol. II., as having married James Wright, 24 September, 1712, may have been the daughter of John.[2]

Page 75, line 23 from bottom. To "Mary, widow of Ezekiel Knight," add note: "Mrs. Knight, former wife of Valentine Hill, died 24 April, 1708."—Pike's Journal.

Page 82, line 20 from bottom. To "Edward Toogood," append the following note: "There was an Edward Toogood who married, at Portsmouth, N. H., Hannah Ayers, 16 October, 1711, and had Mary Toogood, born 17 April, 1713."

Page 83, line 2. For "Ebenezer[5] (647)," read "Ebenezer[5] (657)."

Page 83, line 6 from bottom. To "Philip Cromwell" add: "Pike's Journal says, — 'Capt. Philip Cromwell died 26 May, 1708.'"

Page 85, lines 10 and 11. The names of Nathan Lord and Capt. Samuel Lord should change places. It was Nathan Lord who married Martha Tozer; it was his son Capt. Samuel Lord who married Martha[3] Wentworth.

Page 87, line 4. To Richard Randall, Pike's Journal gives a prior wife, Elizabeth, who died 16 April, 1701.

Page 87, line 9 from bottom. For "Martha (Wentworth) Tozer," read "Elizabeth[2] (Wentworth) Tozer."

Page 90. Ephraim[2] (10).— A grant (of 200 acres) made in 1656, to William Pomfret, was laid out 24 October, 1719, — 100 acres to Ephraim Wentworth, and 100 to Thomas Downes and Stephen Varney. The land lay in "Cochecha woods Bordering on Mr. Rainer's fower hundred acors that Lieth above Tole End"; laid out thus: Beginning at a tree near Benjamin Hanson's land, running S. by W. 76 rods to a tree on the S. E. end of Mr. Rayner's land, then bordering on that land N. W. 132 rods to a tree by a fresh marsh, then E. by S. 58 rods to Benjamin Hanson's land, then E. S. E. to the first bound, — this making 37 acres. The remainder, running N. by E. from Hanson's, 232 rods to a hemlock near Gershom Wentworth's fresh marsh, then N. by W. 184 rods to a tree on a hill, then S. by W. 144 rods, then return. Ephraim Wentworth's part was the lower half, adjoining to "Rayner's line on the north, which is now Laid out to Mr. John Waldron"; a little gore between Rayner's and Wentworth's, is allowed to Wentworth. — Dover Records.

Page 95, line 10 from bottom. "Andrew died 9 January, 1709." Pike says he died 9 February, 1709.

Page 97, after the autograph, should be inserted: "There is a part of an Altar Piece, preserved in the old church at New Castle, N. H., on which is the following: 'Ex dono the Hon. John Wentworth, Lt. Gov., June, 1715.'"

Page 100, line 10 from bottom. In a letter to the Secretary of Claims for Great Britain, dated "Halifax, N. S., 29th December, 1788," Gov. John[5] recounts his losses by the Revolution, and claims pay for "A large property called the Packer estate from its being devised to him by will."

Page 101. The following should be inserted as an explanation and correction of "96. III." near bottom of the page:

Christopher[4] Rymes married his cousin Dorothy[4] (104), daughter of Henry and Dorothy[3] (17) (Wentworth) Sherburne. His widow married, 2d, for his second wife, Dr. Nathaniel, son of Rev. Nathaniel and Sarah (Purkiss) Rogers, and brother of Elizabeth Rogers, first wife of Rev. John Taylor, of Milton, Mass., and also brother of Daniel Rogers, who married Mehitable Rindge, who is mentioned in note on page 184, vol. I. She married, 3d, Rev. John Taylor, of Milton, Mass.; and, 4th, Hon. Peter Gilman, who was appointed Counsellor 1771, and died 1 December, 1788, aged 84 years. The first wife of Dr. Nathaniel Rogers was Olive Plaisted.— See New England Historical and Genealogical Register for October, 1868. Rev. John Taylor was ordained pastor of the church at Milton, Mass., 13 November, 1728. He died 26 January, 1749–50, aged 46, leaving his second wife childless. He married, 1st, about 1730, Elizabeth, daughter of Rev. Nathaniel Rogers, of Portsmouth; she died in 1735, having had:

1. John Taylor, born 1731.

2. Ann Taylor, born 1732, married Hon. Nicholas Gilman, of Exeter, N. H. See Vol. I., pp. 221 and 397.

3. Nathaniel Taylor, born 1734.

4. William Taylor, born 1735.

Rev. John Taylor married, 2d, the widow of his wife's brother, Dr. Nathaniel Rogers; she was previously widow of Christopher[4] (96) Rymes, as above.

Page 102. Insert as note to Ebenezer[3] (16) as follows:

Col. Joseph Lemuel Chester, of London, found the following item at the Herald's College in London, in 1868;

> Register of the John Baptist, Margate, Kent, 18th December, 1730. Ebenezer Wentworth, of Boston, New England, was buried.

This statement implies incorrectness in the given date and place of the death of this Ebenezer[3] (16), who was a sea-faring man; or, it applies to some unknown Ebenezer. But repeated investigation shows that it cannot refer to Ebenezer[3] (16). See record as printed on page 67, vol. I., line 3 from bottom.

PAGE 106, line 14. "Dorothy[4] (104. V.) Sherburne" was four times married. The two wives of Peter Gilman, mentioned in this paragraph, were one and the same Dorothy.[4] She married, 1st, her cousin Christopher[4] (96) Rymes; 2d, as his second wife, Dr. Nathaniel Rogers, son of Rev. Nathaniel and Sarah (Purkiss) Rogers, and brother of Elizabeth, first wife of Rev. John Taylor) of Milton, Mass., and also brother of Daniel Rogers, who married Mehitable Rindge, mentioned in note on page 184, vol. I., by whom she had son Nathaniel Rogers; 3d, Rev. John Taylor, of Milton, Mass.; and 4th, Peter Gilman, by whom she had Abigail Gilman. The first wife of Dr. Nathaniel Rogers, was Olive Plaisted.

PAGE 106, line 17. Peter Gilman was made Counsellor in 1771, instead of 1772. He married, 1st, Mary Thing, widow of his cousin John Gilman; 2d, Dorothy[4] (104) Sherburne (successively the widow of Christopher Rymes, Nathaniel Rogers, and Rev. John Taylor), by whom he had Abigail[5] Gilman, and who died at Exeter, N. H., 25 January, 1761, aged 49; 3d, Jane Bethune, widow of Dr. Moses Prince, and she died 9 March, 1795. He also had Mehitable Gilman married Dr. John Giddings; and Mary Gilman, who married Major Daniel Tilton; but by what wife it is uncertain.

PAGE 107, line 8. Abigail[5] Gilman was the daughter of Hon. Peter Gilman, by his second wife Dorothy[4] (104), the widow of Christopher Rymes, Nathaniel Rogers, and Rev. John Taylor. His daughter Abigail[5] Gilman, having had, by her first husband, no children who survived, had, by her second, Rev. Woodbridge Odlin, as follows:

Dudley Odlin; Woodbridge Odlin; Peter Odlin; John Odlin; Elizabeth Odlin; Abigail Odlin, who was first wife of Hon. Nathaniel Gilman, mentioned in note on page 221, vol. I.; Mary Ann Odlin; and Charlotte Odlin.

PAGE 114, last line of note. The Gilman Genealogy gives the most the author has been able to find of the Thing family at Exeter, N. H.

There was a Jonathan Thing, who had wife Joanna, whose son, Samuel Thing, married, 8 July 1696, Abigail, daughter of Counsellor John Gilman, born 3 November, 1671, and died 7 November, 1725, and sister to Mary Gilman, born 10 September, 1658, and died August 1691, who married 26 July, 1677, Capt. Jonathan Thing, who died 30 October, 1694, having had seven children. This last Jonathan (may he not have been brother to the above Samuel?) had Jonathan Thing, born 21 September, 1678, who married Abigail, daughter of Benjamin Gilman, and also Bartholomew Thing, born 25 February, 1682, died 28 April, 1738, and married, 7 December, 1705, Abigail Coffin, and had Mary Thing, born 11 January, 1713, who was wife of Rev. Nicholas Gilman, brother of Col. John[4] (160) Wentworth's wife Joanna. The Gilman Genealogy calls the wife of Bartholomew Thing in one place Abigail Coffin, and in another, Sarah Kent.

Jonathan and Mary (Gilman) Thing had son John Thing, who had daughter Mary Thing, born 3 May, 1702, married, 8 November, 1720, John Gilman, brother to Col. John[4] (160) Wentworth's wife Joanna, and after John Gilman's death, she became the wife of his cousin, Hon. Peter Gilman. Love, widow of Thomas[3] (30) Wentworth, may have been a second wife of this John Thing.

A Capt. Jonathan Thing married Abigail (born about 1680), daughter of Edward and Abigail (Maverick) Gilman. A Lydia Thing married Antipas Gilman, born 1705, son of Edward Gilman, and grandson of the above Edward and Abigail.

The tradition is that the silver tankard and all the records of the Church were destroyed when the house of Rev. Mr. Thurston, at Somersworth, was burnt, over fifty years ago. This Church organization was abandoned about 1825, and the House of Worship, erected about 1780, was destroyed by fire about 1848.

Page 220. Gilman note. The Gilman Genealogy makes the three wives of Edward to be the wives of three different Edwards, father, son, and grandson. The genealogy begins with Edward Gilman, of Caston, Norfolk Co., England, where he married, 22 June, 1550, Rose Rysse. They had: Robert, baptized at Caston, 19 July, 1559, who had wife Mary, and son Edward born at Bingham, Norfolk Co., England, who married there, 3 June, 1611, Mary Clark, and was the emigrant settler, and died at Exeter, N. H., 22 June, 1681.

Edward[1] and Mary (Clark) Gilman had, all baptized at Bingham, England, besides four other sons, who died young and single:

1. Mary[2], baptized 6 August, 1615; married John Foulsham.

2. Edward[2], baptized 26 December, 1617. It was he whose widow, Mary, administered on his estate in 1655, he having died at sea; his wife was daughter of Richard Smith, of Shropham, Norfolk Co., England. It was his son Edward[3], born 1648, who married Abigail, daughter of Antipas Maverick, and died 1692.
3. Sarah[2], baptized 26 December, 1617; married — Hersey.
4. Lydia[2], date of baptism unknown; married at Hingham, England, 19 January, 1645, Daniel Cushing, eldest son of Mathew Cushing, Sr.
5. John[2], born 19 January, 1624, baptized 23 May, 1626, died 24 July, 1708. He was ancestor of the author of this work. He married, 20 June, 1657, Elizabeth, daughter of James and Catherine (Shapleigh) Treworgye, who was born 1639, and died 8 September, 1719. He was made Counsellor 1680, was frequently elected to the House of Representatives from Exeter, and was Speaker thereof in 1693.
6. Moses[2], baptized 11 March, 1730; married Elizabeth, daughter of William Hersie, senior, and had several children, among whom was James, who had Nehemiah, whose son Theophilus was father of Molly who married Major Jonathan Cass, and was mother of Gen. Lewis Cass.

Page 220, line 3 from bottom. It was James Treworgie, and not Alexander Shapleigh who had a son John and the three daughters there mentioned. Gilman's Genealogy says it was Joan instead of Jane, and calls her husband's name John Ameridith. Savage calls her Jane, and says her husband was Ameridith, Meridith, or Merryday. The author examined the original records, and made the name Amendon, or Ameridon. Gilman says Lucy Treworgie married Thomas Wills. Savage says she married, 1st, young Humphrey Chadbourne, and, 2d, Thomas Wells.

It was Alexander Shapleigh's widow Mary who married John Dennett, made freeman 1672, and father of Ephraim Dennett, who was born 2 August, 1683, and was Counsellor for N. H. in 1732.

H., and investigated the whole matter, and was recognized by the relatives of Aaron[4] (322); there are persons now living there who remember his visit. His father never returned after he left when a minor. The family of this James[5] is given among the 'WENTWORTHS WHOSE ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN,' on pages 322 and 323, vol. II., but it needs corrections, which are given in detail in the corrections to those pages.

Page 297, line 4 of note. Append a note to Thomas McDonough, reading as follows:

The name Thomas McDonough should be Thomas McDonōgh. He is represented as having been the private Secretary of Gov. John[5] (371) Wentworth. Correspondence preserved amply proves that they bore the most intimate relations to each other, and that Mr. McDonōgh adhered to the Governor's person, as well as his cause, until he left Portsmouth, N. H. He was born in Sligo, Co. of Sligo, Ireland. After leaving Portsmouth, N. H., he married Harriot, daughter of Roper and Rachel (Burnett) Dawson. Both her parents were born in England, but the father died on Staten Island, New York, 14 June, 1771, and it is believed that her mother lived there at the time of the marriage. Roper, son of Capt. George Dawson, was baptized 21 July, 1721, and his wife, Rachel Burnett, was born 17 March, 1739.

Roper Dawson was of Ferrily Grange, North Ferrily, Yorkshire, England, and removed to Staten Island, New York, and he had son George, who had son Alexander Dawson, and a daughter married —— Coleman, and another, Washington Jackson.

Some time prior to 1800, Mr. McDonōgh was appointed British Consul at Boston, which office he held until his death, in 1805, aged about sixty five. He was buried at Milton, Mass., in the tomb of his son-in-law, the late Hon. Peter O. Thatcher. When the Duke of Kent (Queen Victoria's father), and when Charles-Mary[6] (995) Wentworth visited the United States, they made their headquarters at his hospitable mansion. The correspondence of Gov. John[5] (371), still preserved, shows that he kept up the most friendly relations with Mr. McDonōgh while he lived, and with his family after his death. Charles-Mary[6] (995) presented him with the portrait of his father, by Copley, which, after their mother's death, their daughters presented to Mark H[7]. (2712) Wentworth, of Portsmouth, N. H. His wife, born 22 June, 1761, died at Hingham, Mass., 10 November, 1838, and was buried at Milton, Mass.

Thomas and Harriot (Dawson) McDonōgh had twelve children, some said to have been born in England, and on Staten Island, New York, and some in Massachusetts (Boston, or vicinity).

1. Charlotte McDonōgh married Hon. Peter O. Thacher, both dead.
2. Harriot McDonōgh died unmarried, July, 1854.
3. Felicia McDonōgh lives unmarried in Boston.
4. George McDonōgh died unmarried in Canada.
5. Thomas McDonōgh, once a midshipman in the British Navy, married, and lives in Trenton, N. J.
6. Eliza McDonōgh, married the late Dr. George Parkman, and lives in Boston.
7. Caroline McDonōgh lives unmarried at Hingham,

Mass. She has the portraits of her parents, and of Judge and Mrs. Peter O. Thacher.

8. Edward McDonōgh died childless.
9. Anna McDonōgh died young.
10. Rachel Anne McDonōgh lives unmarried in Boston.
11. Charles Mary Wentworth McDonōgh, drowned at Hingham, Mass., unmarried.
12. Mary George McDonōgh, born at Charlestown, Mass., 28 May, 1803, married the late Daniel Parkman, and died 3 December, 1859, leaving a daughter, who married Charles Shimmin, of Boston, Mass., and Rev. Charles M. Parkman, Episcopal clergyman at New York city, H. C. 1846, and has son Charles Mary Wentworth Parkman.

Page 303, line 8. Add, as the third child, as follows:

"3. Morton Wentworth[10] Gray, born 11 March, 1869." And, to the bottom of the page, as the 4th child of Mary Sarah[9] Sargent, as follows: "Elizabeth Whitwell[10] Thomas."

Page 307, line 8. "Michael Franklin," should be spelt "Michael Francklin"; and also the same in note.

Page 307, line 4, above the note. The blank, "Daughter," should be filled with "Ann.[7]" She should be put as the second child; as the record shows that Ann[7], second daughter of Judge George Henry and Elizabeth[6] (Gould) Monk, was married 26 March, 1811, by the Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia, at St. Paul's Church, at Halifax, N. S., to Col. Arthur Lloyd, of the Army."

Page 307, in note, line 11 from bottom. Add, as a note to Miss Boutineau, as follows:

Also, in line 8 from bottom, in note. Add as a note to Joshua Loring, jr., as follows:

"Joshua Loring, jr., signed an address to Gov. Hutchinson, of Mass., under date of 28th May, 1774, upon his surrendering his office to Gen. Gage."

Page 308, line 18 from bottom. To George Brinley append note, as follows:

"George Brinley and a Thomas Brinley signed an address to Gov. Hutchinson, of Mass., dated Boston, May 28, 1774, upon the occasion of his surrendering his office to Gen. Gage. Gov. Wentworth, under date of Halifax, N. S., 4th September, 1792, writes to Edward Brinley, of Shelburne, N. S., congratulating him on his marriage, and appoints him Collector of that town. Was this Edward a son of Thomas who was proscribed with George Brinley and went to Halifax, and afterwards to England?

Page 308. In first line of note, substitute "inferior" for "superior." In fifth line of same note, add to the remarks about James Monk, as follows:

Letters of Administration granted in the case of James Monk, 13 June, 1768, to his son James (who was afterwards knighted). The widow waived her right. The deceased was the one who married Anne Deering.

Gov. John Wentworth, 28 June, 1770, recommends James Monk, of Nova Scotia, as a lawyer of repute. He, 2 July, 1770, asks a passage to England, for "my kinsman," Mr. Monk. This was the Monk who was afterwards knighted. There was a brother of James and George Henry Monk, who was named Charles Monk, and a sister who became the widow of George, son of Judge Isaac Deschamps.

Gov. John Wentworth, in a letter dated Boston, Mass., 12 February, 1776, to James Monk, wishes remembrance to Mrs. Monk, and also to his excellent aunt (probably the mother of this James and wife to James, Sr., who was a Deering), to his brother, George Henry Monk, and to his sisters.

Page 309, line 12. The words "before 1793" should be "before 1795," as Paul Wentworth died at Surinam in that year.

"June 6, 1817. My cousin, Mrs. Nevinson, was killed whilst crossing Portman Square, by a horse running away with a gig; the shaft entered the side of her heart, which caused instant death."

Her husband's name was Charles D. Nevinson. Lady Wentworth, under date of 23 January (probably 1811), writes to her nephew, Samuel Henry[6] (991) Wentworth, stating:

"Charles Moody writes to his mother and she to him, but there is not the least chance of an exchange. Mary Jane [probably Mrs. Roberts] is looking very well, and Kate [Mrs. Gore] returns to her school next week."

"Capt. Gore was alive in August, 1843."

In 983. V., line 6 from bottom. Append a note to the word "widow," as follows:

"William B. Brinley was the only son when he died; and his widow, near 20 years after his death, became the second wife of Hon. S. G. W. Archibald, who was speaker of the house, and Attorney-General, and had children by him, all of whom died young and single. She died at Nice a few years since."

tence, line 14, after the words "appointed his successor," add a new sentence, as follows:

"June, 1809, his widow and children sailed for Halifax, and reached Plymouth, England, in July, and ever after lived in England. His widow died, 21 September, 1812, in Hereford, England, a few days after her daughter Julia Ann[6] (986)."

In 984. I., line 16. Append a note to Frances Augusta,[6] as follows:

The name should be "Frances" instead of "Francis." Frances Augusta[6] died January 1856, at Brighton, England.

The following were the children of Frances Augusta[6] (984. I.), who married William Atkins Bowyer, who dropped the name of Bowyer:

1. Frances Augusta[7] Atkins, born 1804; married, 1st, 23 August, 1825, the Rev. George Augustus Legge, vicar of Bray, in the County of Berks; he died 15 June, 1826. Mrs. Legge married, 2d, the Rev. Samuel Cobb, a rector in Surrey, and was a widow in 1858, for the second time.

7. Henrietta[7] Atkins is dead.
8. Henry[7] Atkins, born about 1806, eldest son, resides at Steeple Aston, near Woodstock; is a widower with several children.
9. William Wentworth[7] Atkins, rector of Clapham, where he resides, is also a widower.
10. George[7] Atkins is dead; was in the army.
11. Edward[7] Atkins, youngest son, formerly in the army.

Page 312. In 986. III., line 8 from bottom. Append a note to Julia Ann[6], as follows:

"Lady Wentworth, in a letter dated Portman Square, London, 24 April (year not given, but probably 1811), to her nephew, Samuel Henry[6] (991) says: "I can't give Julia up. If there are any hopes of her recovery, let me know it directly."

Page 313, line 3. In 991. VIII., appended as a note to "Samuel Henry[6]," as follows: "Samuel Henry attended school at Hereford, England, until September, 1812, when he left to join the Military Academy at Woolwich as a cadet."

Page 313, line 21. In "John[5] (371. I)." To the words, "He went to England prior to 1765," append the following note:

"It has always been asserted that he was in England when his wife married her first husband in 1762. For two years prior to his appointment as Governor, he was the agent of the Province of N. H., at London."

Page 314, line 18. To the word "Wolfborough" append a note as follows:

"Gov. Wentworth writes to Charles Hall, of Surinam, under date of Halifax, 16 May, 1801: 'I should be happy, were it in my power, to afford you any useful information concerning your late father's property near my estate at Wolfborough, adjoining to and I believe a part of Tuftonborough, then the property of Mr. Livius. Since August, 1775, I have not had any intercourse with that country upon business. In the progress of the Revolution, all my property was confiscated, and my person proscribed, for my loyalty and attachment to his Majesty's service.'"

Page 314, line 5 above note. Change "in 1851" to "Thursday, 4 September, 1851," when the author visited the old Wentworth grounds at Wolfborough, etc., etc.

Page 314, line 3 of note. Change so as to read as follows:

"You will find a small hut, with little, comfortable apartments. On the one side (we have too much modesty to call it front) we look over the town," etc., etc.

Page 315, line 11 from bottom. To the word "proclamation," append note as follows;

"Gov. John writes the Earl of Dartmouth, under date of 10 March, 1775, that he has issued writs, 28 February, for calling a General Assembly; but finding that as many of the principal instigators and ringleaders in the attack on the fort, with their connections, were elected as would compose at least one-third of the House, he had adjourned their meeting to the 4 May next by proclamation."

PAGE 315, line 5 from bottom. To the word "Paris," append a note as follows:

The last letter of Gov. Wentworth from Fort William and Mary, which has been preserved, was to the Earl of Dartmouth, and dated 18 August, 1775. He writes again to the Earl, under date of Boston, 29 August, that he embarked on board of the ship Scarborough, at Portsmouth, N. H., on the 22d of August, and reached Boston on the 25th. His wife and child sailed from Boston on board of the ship Julius Cæsar for London, 15 January, 1776. He writes to the Earl of Dartmouth, under date of 18 March, 1776, that on the withdrawal of the troops from Boston, he had taken a vessel for his removal to whatever place the fleet and army should go, and proposed to be under their protection. Rev. Dr. Caner, Rector of King's Chapel, Boston, Mass, and about a dozen other loyal refugees were with him. He wrote from Halifax, 10 April; from Long Island, N. Y., 5 November; from New York city, 6 January, 1777; from Newport, Rhode Island, May, 1777. He sailed for England 7 February, 1778, and calls himself a resident of London in May of that year.

PAGE 316, line 8 from bottom. To the words, "leaving his estates, and many of his friends," append a note as follows: In a letter from Halifax, N. S., dated 7 June, 1786, to Paul Wentworth, of London, he speaks of "My loss of a large property, for and because of my loyalty and services to the British Government, during the late unhappy dissentions in America."

PAGE 317. Beamish Murdoch, the historian, of Nova Scotia, writes to the author of this work, under date of 9 September, 1868:

"One thing has impressed me distinctly in my examinations; viz.: Although Sir John was ardently attached to the Royal Government, he had a great and sincere love for his native land, and disapproved of most of the measures that incensed the people, and produced revolt. At every step, I have been more and more impressed with his candor, hospitality, urbanity, constancy, and the affectionate nature of the man, evinced toward his kinsfolks, friends, neighbors, and his country (America), of whose future he was ever sanguine. I found the task of following his career as governor of New Hampshire a very pleasing one. The confiscation of his estate must have been very painful to him, as he had taken great interest in improvements."

Again, under date of 28 January, 1869, Mr. Murdoch says:

"You will see that he was heavily a loser by the sudden death and closing up of the affairs of his friend, Paul Wentworth, at Surinam, with whom he had many dealings. In the latter years of his administration, Gov. Wentworth was embarrassed very much in money affairs; and the losses through the estate of Paul Wentworth may account for it. Although very hospitable and liberal in his expenses, I do not believe he was reckless or extravagant. The more I have investigated his proceedings, the more I am induced to admire the man. His urbanity, his warm attachment to all his kinsfolks, however remote, and to old friends and associates, and his exceeding humanity and kindness, entitle him to the highest respect."

The author of "The Correspondence of King George III. with Lord North, from 1768 to 1783," in a note to the king's letter of 22 November, 1777, says:

"John Wentworth was by birth an American. He was appointed by Lord Rockingham Governor of New Hampshire; and as he was the third governor of the name of Wentworth, and as he bore also the Christian name of one of his predecessors, he is styled in the provincial annals John Wentworth the Second. Though bearing the family name of Lord Rockingham, they were not of kin. Gov. Wentworth stood high in popular favor, and in that respect was an exception to English prefects in North America generally. His judgment was sound, his taste refined, and his views, political and administrative, were large and liberal. Though bred a merchant, he had a taste for agriculture, and was active and intelligent in his plans for improvement. He frequently traversed the forests in New Hampshire, explored the grounds for new roads, and began a plantation for himself in the township of Wolfborough, on which he expended large sums, and built an elegant house. His example was influential on other landholders, who were induced by it to apply themselves to the improvement of waste lands."

"Gov. Wentworth went to England in 1778, and having received a new commission as Surveyor General of the King's woods for all North America, he sailed for Halifax, 12 August, and reached there 20 September, 1783. In 1788 he writes that the duties of his office employ his whole time. Six or seven months in each year he is entirely absent from his family, traversing the wilderness and waters, exposed to cold, heat, hunger, wet, fatigue, and the consequent impressions on his constitution to such a degree that he had never yet found any one man who was able to go through the whole with him."

"The Duke of Kent was not Governor, but Commander-in-Chief of the Royal Army in all British North America, and made his headquarters at Halifax, N. S. It was the Governor of Quebec (at that time Lord Dorchester), who was Governor-in-Chief of all the Provinces."

PAGE 317, line 11 from bottom. To the words "degree of LL. D." add the following note:

"He received the degree of LL. D. from the Universities of Oxford and Aberdeen, before he became Governor of New Hampshire."

PAGE 317, line 8 from bottom. To the date "January, 1810," add a note as follows:

"There is an autograph letter from Lady Wentworth, dated at Morin's hotel in London, 1 March, 1810, describing a severe voyage across the ocean, and stating that her husband came with her, and that they had met their son who was already in England. And there are letters covering the space of time up to 24 July, 1812, which prove her husband and son still with her. So she never returned to Halifax, nor did her husband, until after her death, nor is there any evidence that her son ever did. From this it is difficult to account for Haliburton's statement above."

PAGE 317, line 4 from the bottom. To the word "Lodge," add a note as follows:

"The land upon which the 'Prince's Lodge' was built, was always the property of Sir John Wentworth, but the Duke of Kent occupied and improved it. There is a manuscript letter extant from Lady Wentworth to her son in England, dated 'Lodge, 29 July, 1808.'" spondence, extending from 1767 to 1808, a period of forty-one years, which are now among the public records at Halifax, N. S. The volumes have all been rigidly examined for the author of this work, through the kindness of Mr. Murdoch, the historian. Sir John made his will 26 May, 1818: it was proven 13 April, 1820. He appoints his son Charles-Mary[6] Wentworth, of Sunning Hill, in the County of Berks, in England, his executor, and makes him his sole heir. He gives 'my dear friend and kinswoman Anna Louisa Morton,' his silk purse with a few pieces of gold and silver coin in it, and also one hundred guineas. She was the Anna Louisa[7] Morton of page 304, and daughter of Mrs. Sarah[6] (967) (Apthorpe) Morton. Gov. Wentworth also leaves thirty guineas to his wife's sister, Mary[5] (366) Brinley, but she died before he did. He requests Mr. Michael Wallace to assist his son Charles-Mary[6] with reference to his property in Nova Scotia, and leaves one hundred guineas to him. He wants to be buried 'without undue expense, for I am a private citizen and would avoid all show and parade.' He also leaves one hundred and fifty guineas to George Dean McLeod, then a clerk to an attorney at London, whom he says Mr. Putnam can identify. He leaves his clothes, bed, and bed linen, and twenty-five guineas, to Mr. Edward Harrington Lowe.

Page 318. In line next above note, change the date "1857" to "1851, when the author saw at Dover, etc."

Page 320, line 16. Insert as follows: Gov. Wentworth, in a letter dated Halifax, N. S., 21 November, 1792, says:

"The information you give me of my mother's health and Mr. Rindge's [probably his mother's brother], greatly comforts me, and the more so, as the advanced season of the year will, I fear, prevent my visiting my friends in New Hampshire this year, as I intended. The general disposition of kindness toward me, which is manifested in that country, is unfeignedly pleasing to me, after an adherence to my public duty to oppose their revolution, which for so many years has divided us."

He never visited the United States after the revolution. But the following correspondence of Sir John, shows that his son, Charles-Mary[6], did. In 1799, Gov. Wentworth writes that:

"Lady Wentworth and my son arrived here [Halifax] in safety, after a fine passage of twenty-seven days."

To Thomas McDonõgh, British Consul at Boston, Mass., Gov. W. writes, under date of Halifax, N. S., 10 December, 1799, that his son sailed yesterday for Boston, Mass., in His Majesty's sloop of war, Fly. To Scroope Bernard, Esq., under date of Halifax, 7 April, 1800, he says:

"My son was in Philadelphia, 12 March, 1800, attending to the eloquence of the United States. He was particularly distinguished by the President, and those in the departments of state, whose society and countenance are most honorable and useful to a traveller."

To John King, Esq., dated Halifax, 6 April, 1800, he says:

"The President spoke to my son of me in the kindest terms, said it was impossible for him to leave his country; but exceedingly wished that I could come to see him in the United States."

To Thomas McDonõgh, Esq., under date of Halifax, 8 November, 1800, he says:

"My son went south as far as Georgia, and is expected at Halifax in ten days."

To Lord Castlereagh, dated Halifax, 21 September, 1805, Gov. W. writes that he sends his son to England with official despatches.

To Lord Sheffield, dated Halifax, 1 February, 1806, he writes:

"My son, Charles-Mary[6] Wentworth, returned to England last autumn, after several years travel through the United States of America and the British Colonies."

Page 320, line 8 from bottom. Add the following as a note to Charles-Mary[6] (295):

"Gov. Wentworth, in a letter dated Portsmouth, N. H., 20 March, 1775, to Samuel Holland, Esq., says: 'Last week, we christened our new born son, whom we present to you by the name of Charles-Mary after Lord and Lady Rockingham, at their request, and they were sponsors by proxy, whom they also named. The boy will do to pull up stumps at Wentworth House.' This refers to the house at Wolfborough, N. H. He also says, under date of Boston, Mass., 12 February, 1776, in a letter to James Monk, 'Mrs. Wentworth, with our infant son, sailed for England, 19 January, 1776, on the ship Julius Cæsar.'"

PAGE 321, line 11 from bottom. Read "Thomas Watson[26] Wentworth" for "Thomas Watson[25] Wentworth," and in same line read "whose grandfather" for "whose father."

PAGE 323. Add the following to the last line of note:

"A Mr. Loder held a chief office at the Royal Navy Yard, at Halifax, about 1770 or 1780, who had a nephew named Lloyd, who was a Lieutenant in the Royal Navy, and married and died at Halifax, leaving a widow, a son who died unmarried, and two daughters. Mr. Loder also had two nieces, named Lloyd, one of whom married Rufus Taylor, a merchant, and the other, John W. Pyke."

PAGE 324, line 11. The following, from the London Gentleman's Magazine, is believed to refer to Mark[6] (996):

"September, 1793. Died on his passage from Barbadoes, Lt. Wentworth, of His Majesty's ship, Scorpion."

PAGE 325, line 5. To "998. III. Elizabeth[6]," append the following note:

Moore's regiment at the capture of Louisburgh. He, with his son Nathaniel, and with rank of Colonel, went in the next expedition against Louisburgh. He and his son both died with small-pox. The wife of George was a Miss Newmarch; he adhered to the English Government and his property was confiscated, and he went to England in 1777."
